

Paper carriers come in all sizes—little boys, big boys, red-headed boys and blond boys—but only once in a couple hundred do circulation managers find one girl-size and riding a horse.

Yet 12-year-old Kathy Byron and her 15-month-old colt are trotting proof that female descendants of the pony express do happen occasionally.

EACH DAY Kathy gets her papers from a Dixon Telegraph truck in Grand Detour and she and Thunder, the colt, make the rounds from house to house. At some houses Thunder takes her right up on the porch. At others—where subscribers don't care for the idea of Thunder stepping on the grass—Kathy must dismount and walk to the door.

"Still it saves me about half an hour," explains Kathy. "When the weather's too bad for Thunder and I have to walk the route it takes me about an hour and a half. With Thunder I can do it in about an hour."

KATHY RECEIVED the horse as a present from her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Byron, on her twelfth birthday last May 11. For the past month she has been carrying papers for The Telegraph.

She rides bareback ("he's too young to put a saddle on").

She and Thunder also have two other companions during the major part of her delivering. One is Roger Kline, son of Mr. and Mrs. Art Kline, who rides his horse Sundown, and Kathy's dog.

Thunder also takes Kathy to the Grand Detour grade school almost every morning where she is in seventh grade.

"I have to tie him up when I get there," says Kathy, "because he doesn't wait for me like he used to."

The money that Kathy makes on the paper route goes into the care and feeding of Thunder. That was the agreement she made with her parents.

PERHAPS A BIT jealous of their western-riding sister are the two other Byron children, Billy, 11, and Mary, 15, by, according to Kathy, they don't show it.

ACCORDING to one story, Kathy and Thunder received a complaint from one Grand Detour family that the horse was damaging the sod when he stepped off the stone walk leading up to their house after Kathy had delivered the paper.

Since then Thunder and Kathy have been showing off. Up they march to the door, Kathy drops the paper and then Thunder does a delicate pirouette in slow motion with all four feet on the same rock until he's completely turned around. Then the two of them march off to finish the route.

Dixon Girl, 19, Fined $15 After Police Give Chase

A 19-year-old Dixon girl was arrested on a charge of speeding last night after a chase by two police officers had led from inside Dixon to outside the city limits.

The girl, who gave her name as Jo Ann Landorff, 314 Poplar st., Dixon, was first noticed traveling at a speed of "50 to 55 miles and hour" on West Third street by officers Jack Van Meter and John Woodyatt. The officers followed and finally caught her just outside Dixon or Rt. 30.

She was brought into Justice of the Peace Sterling W. Schrock who fined her $15 and costs.

HST Plan to Extend Controls Faces Stormy Going in Congress

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Storm signals were up in congress today on the administration's request to extend and strengthen the network of price, wage, rent, credit and materials controls.

Chairman Maybank (D-SC) is pushing the senate banking committee to get its extension bill onto the senate floor.

Chairman Maybank (D-SC) is pushing the senate banking committee to get its extension bill onto the senate floor.

But progress was suspended until next week after Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) officials protested tentative senate committee actions.

Vote on Amendment

One was a vote to revise the Herlong amendment which last year assured retailers and wholesalers of historic profit percentages, or margins, on price ceilings fixed "hereafter."

President Truman and price control officials have been pushing for repeal of the Herlong amendment, saying it is inflationary. An attempt to kill it was beaten 10 to 3 in the senate committee yesterday.

Then the group voted to strike out the "hereafter." OPS officials said that would reopen thousands of price ceilings and price controls to last.

Mobilizer Goes In Huddle With Defense Chiefs

WSB Chairman Says Wilson Silent on Steel Wage Views

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Chairman Nathan P. Feinsinger of the Wage Stabilization Board (WSB) told reporters "hell, no," today when asked if Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson has asked the WSB to reduce its recommendations for settling the steel case.

He had just left a meeting with Wilson, who has said the WSB's statement plan, calling for a 18½ cent wage boost, was a serious threat to anti-inflation efforts.

Work On Plan

Wilson also talked with Economic Stabilizer Roger Putnam and Price Stabilizer Ellis Arnall. Wilson apparently was trying to work out some plan to help settle the steel labor dispute. A strike of Philip Murray's more than 650,000 CIO steelworkers in the basic steel industry is scheduled for April 8.

Arnall left Wilson's office 40 minutes after Feinsinger. As reporters followed him down the corridor, firing questions, he replied:

"No comment. . . . No comment. . . . No comment. . . ."

Hands Off?

A spokesman for Wilson's office of Defense Mobilization refused to confirm or deny he plans to keep hands off the steel wage dispute for the present in hopes of progress in union-management negotiations which started yesterday in Pittsburgh, and resumed today.

The situation was such that it even appeared possible that, with

Gen. Ike to Resign Soon, News Claims

CHICAGO, (AP)—The Chicago Daily News said today it had learned from "sources usually regarded as completely reliable" that Gen. Eisenhower will resign his European job "at any moment now."

The newspaper said it was told Eisenhower plans to submit his resignation to President Truman through Secretary of Defense Lovett.

"The general will explain," the newspaper said, "that his political position makes it desirable that he leave SHAPE (Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers, Europe) before the Republican convention. Eisenhower is expected to return to the United States in the latter part of May, the informed sources said."

The Daily News added that its informants stated that one of Eisenhower's major backers, Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, will visit the general in Paris within "the next few days" for consultations.

Benton Challenges McCarthy To Bring Trial Before Voting

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator Benton (D-Conn), target of a two million dollar damage suit brought by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis), challenged McCarthy today to press for trial "before his bid for reelection next November."

Commenting on the "libel, slander and conspiracy" suit the Wisconsin Republican filed yesterday, Benton said in a statement:

"I can prove in court the truth of my carefully documented charges."

"His sincerity can henceforth be judged, even by those who read as they run, by the diligence with which he seeks to bring his suit to trial. Let him insist on actual trial before his bid for reelection next November."

Review Needed

"An immediate review of his tactics is urgently in the interest of the people of the United States and also of the tens of millions throughout the world in whose eyes our country is being discredited by his tactics."

Benton said he had formerly waived his constitutional immunity from legal action in this case—congressmen are not liable for anything they say in congress—to compel him (McCarthy) to sue me or cease his reckless accusations." He added:

"I sought to bring him before an impartial tribunal—a procedure which he has avoided by consistently shielding himself behind his own immunity."

Benton's Charges

The suit was based on Benton's charges under oath last September that McCarthy committed perjury, fraud and "calculated deceit" in pressing his Communists-in-government charges.

Benton made the charges before

Lattimore Chief Stalin Agent, Claim

WASHINGTON, (AP)—A Yale professor testified today he regards Owen Lattimore as "probably the principal agent of Stalinism" among American Far Eastern specialists.

Prof. David N. Rowe made the statement in testimony before the senate Internal Security subcommittee.

The committee is investigating the Institute of Pacific Relations, a private research organization of which Lattimore, a Johns Hopkins professor and onetime State department consultant, is a trustee. The inquiry is designed to determine whether the IPR exercised a subversive influence in U. S. Far Eastern policy.

A senate elections subcommittee is demanding that McCarthy be expelled from congress. The constitution says members of congress cannot be sued for remarks they make in congress.

Benton's waiver offer has started discussion among other senators as to whether a member of congress can shed constitutional immunity.

AN EDITORIAL

STRATTON FOR GOVERNOR

William P. Stratton of Morris, Republican candidate for the nomination for governor, is far ahead in the race, both in Cook county and downstate. William H. Stuart's "Heard and Seen," a weekly newsletter edited by an experienced and wise observer of political happenings over the years, says in last week's edition that:

"It's all Stratton presently. There has been a bandwagon swing to him in Cook. Not much over the mark is the organization estimate that 70 out of the 80 committeemen are with the Morris man."

All of which is very gratifying to stratton's friends in Lee county and all over this part of the state where he always has fine support.

Bill Stuart reports that the swing started when 11 wards that had been 9 to 2 for Rowe decided by a big majority to switch to Stratton and then made it unanimous. The remainder of the city and county town vote in Cook county is joining in the parade.

Judge John D. Biggs of Greenville is getting Cook county and downstate support for lieutenant governor and will undoubtedly win that place on the Republican ballot and he deserves it. Judge Biggs is a fine and capable man and will add strength to the Republican ticket.

Another candidate in whom Lee county voters will have a special interest is Judge Latham Castle of Sandwich, DeKalb county. Our neighbor is a candidate for attorney general and he also looks like a winner for he is getting organization support in Cook county as well as downstate.

Orville E. Hodge, a member of the legislature, who had made an outstanding name for himself in the house, is our choice for auditor.

Senator Charles F. Carpenter of East Moline, who is a candidate for the nomination for secretary of state, has our endorsement for the position he seeks. Senator Carpenter has a long and splendid record of fine public service in the state senate. He is widely and favorably known in Illinois.

Sen. Bridges Claims 'Honest' Interest in Liquor Tax Case

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator Styles Bridges (R-NH) testified today he took an interest in a seven million dollar tax case against a Baltimore liquor dealer because he wanted to encourage "quick and proper action" by the government.

In the witness chair before house tax investigators, Bridges suggested that as a member of congress he should be interested in seeing that the government secured a fair amount of tax and was also fair to the taxpayer.

Just "Official"

He has nothing but "official interest" in the matter, he declared.

Bridges, senate Republican floor leader, said his attention was called to the case by William Power Maloney, New York attorney and former Justice department official.

The house group is making a general inquiry into tax scandals and irregularities.

It has developed that Bridges and Henry (the Dutchman) Gruenwald, mysterious man—about—Washington, took an active interest in a seven million dollar jeopardy tax assessment the government placed in 1949 against Hyman Harvey Klein of Baltimore.

There was testimony they made repeated inquiries to the bureau of internal revenue about the case.

The case, still pending, involves five million dollars Klein said he made on a wartime liquor import-deal.

Not Acquainted

Klein has testified that he is not acquainted with either Bridges or Gruenwald, hadn't authorized them to act in his case, and did not know why they interested in it.

Maloney, who is now attorney for Gruenwald, has testified that he asked Bridges as "a friend" to make inquiries about the case.

Bridges appeared before the investigating subcommittee at his own request and was placed under oath as all other witnesses have been.

He testified that he did not know Klein. Bridges said: "My interest in this tax matter stemmed from the information"

411 in County Getting State Relief Money

Reporter Takes Peek Finds $22,474 Paid Out During March

A check of the Lee county relief rolls today for the month of March has shown 411 county residents listed as receiving aid from the Illinois Public Aid commission.

The lists, which were recently opened to the public, showed only a slight drop in cases and persons receiving aid since the rolls were opened.

The relief recipients were from four main categories: old age pensions, aid to dependent children, blind and disability assistance. General assistance, or relief, is not handled directly by the Lee county office.

$22,474 in March

According to County Superintendent, Margaret Myers, approximately $22,474 was given in public aid in the county during March in the three categories mentioned plus medical expenses.

In November, 1951, $22,916 was spent.

The figures for March by each section are: old age pensions, 311 persons, $11,076 plus medical costs; aid to dependent children, 88 persons (23 families), $2,395 plus medical costs; assistance to the blind, 10 persons, $473; and disability assistance, $130.

Start New Policy

A new policy was started by the commission Jan. 1, 1952, eliminating the payment of medical expenses through the person receiving relief.

Now, according to Miss Myers, the bills are paid directly. She estimated from $1,800 to $2,000 was spent in this manner during March, bringing the month's expenditures to near $22,474.

Four months ago, when the lists were first opened, the following were receiving aid: old age pensions, 342 persons, $19,240; aid to dependent children, 79 persons (20 families), $2,477; assistance to the blind, 16 persons, $843; and disability assistance, five persons, $386.

The November figures include the medical expenses.

Before viewing the lists, a person must sign a request giving his name, purpose and stating that he will not use the information for commercial purposes.

There had been considerable anxiety that the opening of the rolls would be humiliating to the recipients and it was also claimed that the lists would be used for wrongful purposes. Both of these claims, according to State Secretary Garrett Keaster, have fallen through.

He also said that the elimination of secrecy has scotched rumors that relief rolls were loaded with persons undeserving of public assistance.

Madman Killer Fires Through Home Windows

2 Others Wounded; Planes Search for Slayer in Sandhills

MERRIMAN, Neb.—(AP)—A shotgun wounding assailant opened fire on a ranch home near Merriman today and by the time he was through, had killed three persons.

One of the dead was a neighboring rancher who was answering a telephone call for help.

Two Wounded

Two others, including a 10-month-old baby, were wounded. Authorities immediately road-blocked this entire sparsely-settled northwest Nebraska sandhills area. Plane after plane was sent into the air in the search for the unidentified slayer.

First speculation by authorities was that the slayings must have been done by someone carrying a "grudge," or someone gone berserk.

Dead were George Messenger, 28, his 23-year-old wife, and a neighbor, Deo Gardner, about 50.

Wounded were the Messenger's baby and a neighbor, Cliff McDonald, about 35.

Fired From Outside

Marvin Hansen, state safety patrolman stationed at Valentine, said the assailant apparently had not entered the Messenger ranch home five miles south of Merriman but shot through doors and windows.

Mrs. Messenger apparently was felled as she stood by the telephone, trying to summon help.

McDonald, who lives about a mile and a half away, had heard Mrs. Messenger's general call (a series of short rings on a party line, designed to call all subscribers), their phone.

Encounters Slayer

As McDonald approached the farm, he apparently encountered the slayer in his car. The assailant shot and injured McDonald, the shotgun pellets striking him in the neck, Hansen said.

Gardner, another rancher living two and a half miles away, also heard the telephone call and headed for the Messenger ranch with his son and a hired man, Frank Ellis. They spotted a car and stopped to inquire about the trouble. The assailant fired into the Gardner car, killing Gardner. The son and hired man were not hurt.

Used Pistol

Hansen said Gardner appeared to have been killed with a pistol although all the others were shot with a shotgun, loaded with buckshot.

The only roads in the area are sandhill trails. Hansen said a man would have to know the area to use them for a getaway.

The Messengers operated a ranch of about 3,000 acres, raising purebred Hereford cattle.

Merriman is in Cherry county, just six miles from the Nebraska-South Dakota border. Valentine, the county seat, is 61 miles away.

Latest Rumor: Gov. Stevenson Declines Truman Bid to Run

CHICAGO, (AP)—The Chicago Daily Sun-Times, in a copyright dispatch from Washington, today said that Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois has "firmly declined President Truman's invitation to seek the Democratic presidential nomination."

"And," said the story written by Carleton Kent, "it was learned Wednesday only a full-blown convention draft could shake his (Stevenson's) decision."

"Stevenson communicated this decision, gently but with great firmness, to Mr. Truman shortly sure on Stevenson to change his mind or to modify his position."

Kent, in his dispatch, said "The conclusion seems to be that Stevenson honestly is running only for the governorship and sincerely would resist a draft. But whether his resistance to a full-blown and honest draft could be overcome remains to be seen—when and if such a movement should materialize."

The Sun-Times story said that Stevenson will attend the Jefferson-Jackson day dinner in Washington Saturday at which Mr. Truman will speak.

Backing May Develop

"That dinner also could develop a show of Stevenson enthusiasm among the party's great and near-great," the newspaper said. "An enthusiastic outburst there for Stevenson—or a word directly from Mr. Truman—would pour fuel on the Stevenson political fire."

Commenting on the story, Stevenson reiterated he is a candidate for reelection as governor "and that is all I want."

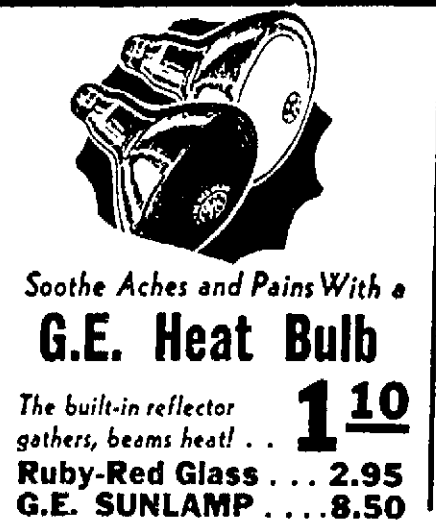

"I don't know where all these stories come from and I have no comment on them," he said. "I have made it quite clear repeatedly that I am not seeking the Democratic nomination for president."

No Pressure

"And since that communication, Mr. Truman has not put any pres-

Press Asked To Watch Aim In Reporting

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The American press was asked today to help keep "rightdoers" in government from being smeared by attacks on wrongdoers.

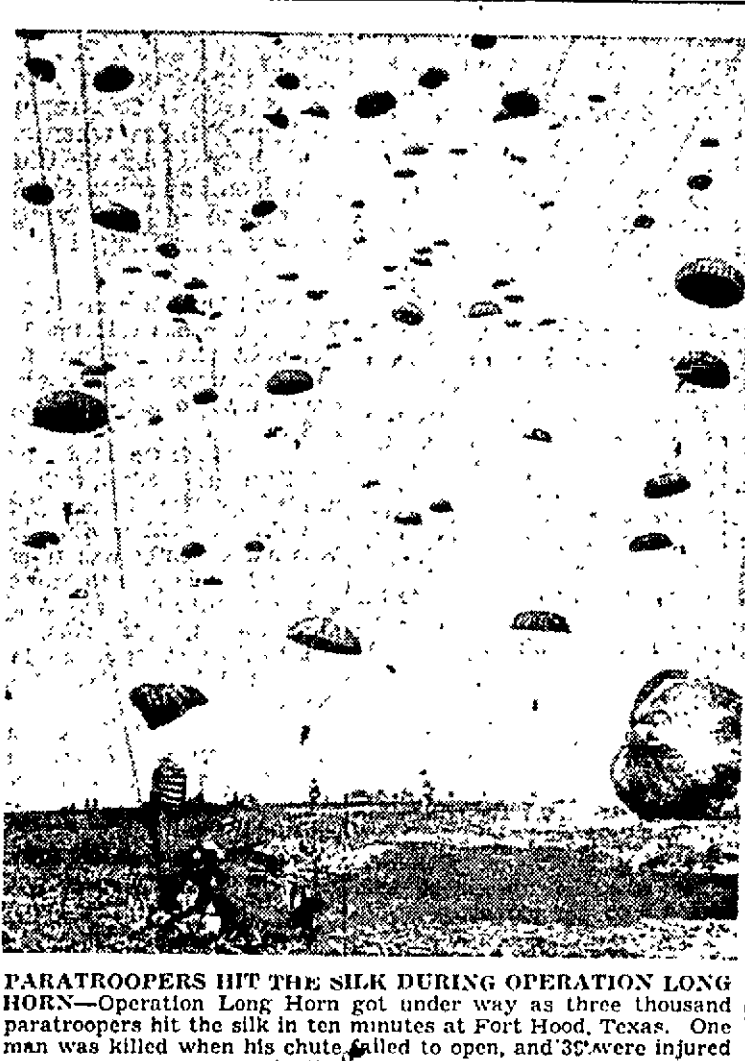

"Let's watch our aim," Robert Ramspeck, U.S. civil service chief, said in a speech prepared for a luncheon of the National Press Club. "And let's hand a medal as quickly as we'd hand a culprit. There's room for both—even in an election year."

He said too little is known about the day-to-day services of the majority of federal workers in relation to misdeeds of a few.

"For the sake of the 'wisecrack' and the gibbness with which certain phrases roll off the tongue or out of the typewriter, we must not shirk a duty to tell both sides of the story," he added.

Ramspeck said it is not true that an employee once on the federal payroll never leaves it—400,492 persons voluntarily quit government jobs during 1951.

And it isn't true, Ramspeck said, that no one is ever fired—23,978 workers were discharged last year.

Poor Man's Philosopher Offers A Prayer for Beautiful Spring

BY HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK, (AP)—Spring prayer by the Poor Man's Philosopher:

It is such a beautiful season, Lord, that everything upon the budding earth and bending sea should share thine own vast compassion.

Teach us to understand the eternal why of all unlovely things.

Such as—
Poison snakes, biting dogs, poison ivy, puppies in zoot suits, the thorn upon the rose's stem, the stinging thistle underfoot, gossips and witches and people too big for their britches.

Show us thine own endless patience in dealing with our daily vexations and frustrations.

Such as—
Falling hair and rising prices, doors that jam, slide fasteners that stick, relatives and wonder drugs that won't work.

Grant us, O Lord, thine own mercy in judging the stuffed shirts of our time.

Such as—
Pontifical columnists and commentators, sanctimonious parsons, people who measure your social standing by the length of your motor car, radio master-of-ceremony smarties, and the long-winded intellectuals who try to save the world at cocktail parties.

Let us, O Lord, forgive all even as thou dost forgive.

Such as—
Those who did us a small favor and couldn't help making a big brag about it later, the idealist with a mind of one dimension and the butcher who in the last war didn't give us the breaks when we asked for steaks.

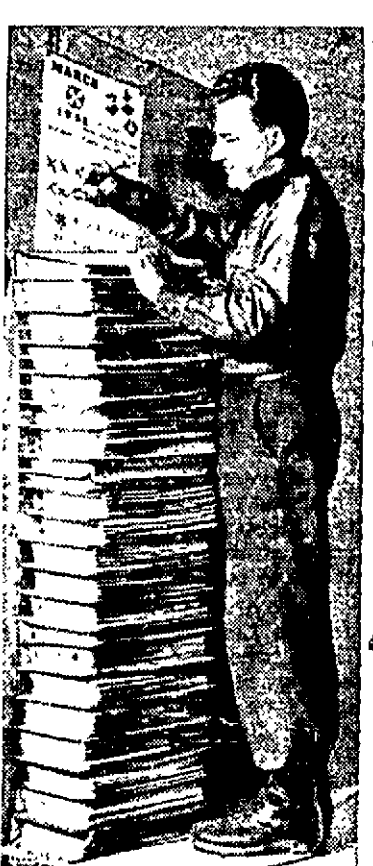

Seal our lips against making a big gripe about our own small troubles. Help us put up with them.

Such as—
The spoiled kid next door that wails half the night, the neighbor that won't lend us his new lawnmower, complaining wives, husbands that stop off for just one more—and then come home and try to kick their way through the door.

Yes, such as the brother-in-law who comes to visit for a week—and stays on through the years, mosquitoes in the parlor, cockroaches in the kitchen, sudden small pains, and the garbage that insists upon clogging the drains.

Teach us, O Lord, in this beautiful spring to take the little and the big in stride, to appreciate the shower as well as the flower, to look at both sides of the wonderful gold coin of life.

Let us be grateful even for the mine in our paradise.

Indiana Town Blacks Out in Utility Strike

PERU, Ind., (AP) — A strike of city utility workers cut off electricity in this city of 13,000 this morning.

Schools were closed and countless homes were chilled for lack of electricity to operate stokers and oil and gas burners or blowers. Street lights went out at midnight.

Housewives, digging in for a blackout with no end in sight, filled bathtubs with water in fear that a single gas-operated pump couldn't keep up the water pressure.

Mayor S. G. Cox said Governor Henry F. Schricker told him the strikers have no right, under Indiana law, to walk off their city jobs. Indiana has a law requiring arbitration of public utility disputes, but its validity has been in doubt since the U. S. Supreme court knocked out a similar Wisconsin law.

The mayor said the governor offered state help, including national guardsmen, if needed. A state labor conciliator came to Peru to try to iron out the dispute.

Non-Skid Tire Is Perfected

DETROIT, (AP) — A new high mileage non-skid auto tire and a safety tube said to provide "complete protection" against punctures and blowouts, were announced today by the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.

The casing, a new all-nylon (synthetic) cord tire with side-walls of natural and tread of cold synthetic rubber was described as having up to 42 per cent more non-skid mileage than the standard tire of today.

Hungarian Stuffed Pepper

This is the way Hungarian women in Connecticut turn stuffed green peppers into regal eating.

Hungarian Stuffed Peppers

Six green peppers (plump, uniform), 1 pound ground beef, ½ cup chopped onion, 1 egg, 1 cup uncooked rice, 1 teaspoon salt, pepper, 1 10½-ounce can tomato soup, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 cup thick sour cream.

Cut tops off green peppers. Use scissors to remove center and all the seeds. Combine ground beef, onion, egg, rice, salt and pepper. Mix well and stuff loosely into the green peppers (allow for rice to swell). Place upright in a casserole. Pour tomato soup mixed with 2 cans of water into the casserole.

Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) at least one hour or until rice is tender. (If rice is boiled 10 minutes before combining with the meat, one hour baking is adequate). Remove peppers to hot platter. Combine flour and sour cream and stir into the tomato sauce in the casserole. Stir and boil to thicken. Pour over the peppers.

With cabbage, now look what they do!

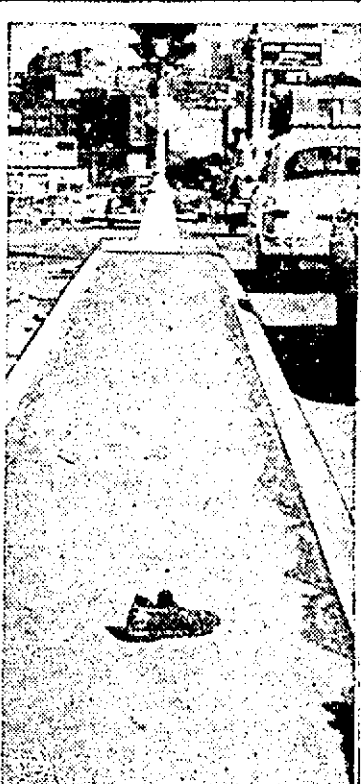

Mrs. Kovacs's Cabbage Rolls (Yield: about 16 small rolls)

One pound ground beef, or half beef and half pork, 1 cup rice, 1 egg, ½ cup chopped onion, 1 teaspoon salt, pepper, 1 medium head cabbage, 1 small can sauerkraut, 1 10½-ounce can tomato soup.

Combine beef, rice, egg, onion and seasoning. Soften cabbage in boiling water for about 2 minutes. Then cut off 16 large outer leaves. Cut out and discard hard center rib of each leaf and top leaf with rounded tablespoon of leaf mixture. Roll up leaf and tuck in the edges to make a compact roll, about 3 inches long.

Make small balls out of remaining meat mixture. Spread sauerkraut in large skillet or casserole. Top with cabbage rolls and meat balls. Cover with remaining cabbage chopped fine. Pour tomato soup mixed with one can of water over the cabbage and meat. Cover.

Cook slowly over low heat or in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) one hour. Drain off liquid and thicken with 2 tablespoons flour mixed with 2 tablespoons butter. Heat and pour over the cabbage rolls. Serve hot.

PEDESTRIANS TAKE HEED—Mute reminder of what happens to a heedless pedestrian lies on safety island in Seattle, after an auto knocked a pedestrian out of his shoes. The cars still roll, but it will be a long time before the jaywalker leaves the hospital.

MALIK'S A SKETCH—Jacob Malik, Russian delegate to the UN, unwittingly "sat" for this sketch by United States delegate Benjamin Cohen. Cohen caught the fleeting impression of the Russian spokesman during debate at a Security Council disarmament meeting in New York.

Judge John D. Biggs

Every voter in Bond county and Greenville should be proud of the opportunity to vote for a Bond county man for lieutenant governor of Illinois. Such a privilege does not come to the people of every county. Once before, Greenville and Bond county were proud to elect and send to Springfield a lieutenant governor, in the person of the late William A. Northcott of Greenville, who served acceptably and well.

Greenville and Bond county people have the opportunity to nominate Judge John D. Biggs, a native of Bond county, for lieutenant governor. He is a candidate on the Republican ticket, and has two opponents.

If he is successful in the April primary, his name will appear on the general election ballot next November, opposing the man who will be nominated by the Democrats in the April primary.

John D. Biggs was born and educated in Bond county.

Following his graduation in law from the University of Illinois, he opened a law office here, was elected state's attorney and county judge. Judge Biggs presided in the courts of Cook county, serving under Judge Edmund K. Jarecki, Cook county judge, and here Judge Biggs gained an experience that any man might covet. Sitting in the Cook county court, he came in contact with every type of case from the seamy side of life, up to cases which involved those in high places. This work lasted over a period of nine years.

For a period of time, Judge Biggs turned his attention to the business world, and served as president of the First National bank in Greenville, adding his knowledge of law and justice to the handling of the institution.

In 1941, Judge Biggs was named chairman and member of the Illinois Commerce Commission, resigning a year ago, having served two years after the administration changed. This is said here, to show that the incoming administration recognized the ability of Judge Biggs in that important post.

Judge Biggs served two years as president of the National Association of Railroad and Utility Commissioners and sat in many joint hearings with the Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington on important matters involving regulatory matters, which affected Illinois.

Following Judge Biggs' retirement from the commission, he has devoted his time to the administration of estates, in which work his bent to fairness and justice is widely recognized, and his judgment valued.

Judge Biggs owns the farm of several hundred acres in Bond county where he was born, and where through the years, he has carried on extensive farm operations. He is truly a Bond county product. Although his work has taken him away from the county the greater part of the time for years, he has always maintained his home in Greenville, and doubtless always will.

Some idea of the stability of Judge Biggs' quality of justice is seen, when as a young man, while serving as county judge of Bond county, few, if any, of his decisions were ever reversed.

The years of experience gained in handling court cases in Cook county, his long years on the Commerce Commission, coupled with his connections with the Interstate Commerce Commission, as well as his banking and farming experience, fit him for the important job of lieutenant governor, probably better than any other candidate on either ticket.

This editorial is not a political editorial. It expresses the belief the writer has in the fitness Judge Biggs possesses for the office he seeks. Judge Biggs is not a politician in the full sense of the word. Not that he is disloyal to his party, but he is loyal to his constituents, whether they vote for him or not, and he would without doubt, be found remembering Bond county, and her needs, far more than any man opposing him, or who will oppose him.

The prospects for Judge Biggs' nomination appear to be very bright. He is well known in Springfield; he is well known in Chicago, and northern Illinois, where he presided in the county court for years, and later serving alternate weeks in Chicago and Springfield, on the Commerce Commission, and he is the only southern Illinois candidate on the primary ticket for lieutenant governor.

Judge Biggs has announced he is not a candidate on any state slate. To nominate Judge Biggs for lieutenant governor will place Bond county on the map and every voter in Bond county should want this to happen.

In these days of corruption in high places, which causes us to lose faith in men we had trusted, we need not go to the polls with our fingers crossed, hoping to find an honest man to vote for, for lieutenant governor Illinois. There is one on the Republican primary ticket—Judge John D. Biggs, whose past record has no question mark attached.

NEWBOLD MORRIS

A PUBLISHER'S TRAVELOGUE

By MABEL S. SHAW

Herewith is published a letter from Mrs. Mabel S. Shaw, publisher of The Dixon Evening Telegraph, to her family. Mrs. Shaw is on a Mediterranean cruise aboard the Norwegian-American Steamship Oslofjord. She is accompanied by Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen, Mrs. Victor Munneke, Mrs. Charles S. Clark, Mrs. Doris Schuler and Dr. Hazel Griffith.

We loved Seville, the old and wealthy city of the Moors. We motored a distance of 95 miles from Cadiz where our ship was in port. As we entered the city through the gates of the old city wall we observed two sentinels with guns resting on their shoulders. Nothing happened and we went merrily on through beautiful Belvidere park and over very, very wide, paved streets into the city, passing many very beautiful homes.

Shows Great Wealth There still must be great wealth here. It is called the Artistic Treasure House of southern Spain. We were so disappointed not to have more time here. With worlds to see the Alcazar Gardens, the famous Bull Ring, Seville looked very alert with hundreds of autos, many American makes, good looking, handsome cabs, black and shiny, set off by wheels of scarlet. Also the horse-driven luxurious Victorias.

Visits Palace We visited the beautiful palace, the home of former kings where Franco is now a frequent visitor. The palace is really a treasure house with paintings of the old and great masters. The walls were carved in rich brocades. Of course every piece of bric-a-brac was of the most costly and a joy to look upon. The Oriental rugs were a bit shabby. The palace is open to the public and scores of tourists eagerly pay a visit to one of Alfonso's abodes.

Fine Cathedral The cathedral was one of the finest yet seen. It is astonishing to see the vast fortunes spent on some of these cathedrals. Gold leaf used would run into a great fortune to say nothing of the paintings by great masters of the day. The murals are superb and one would like more time than we were given to enjoy such works of art.

We had luncheon at the Hotel Alfonso the XIII. We did enjoy this delightful spot, the most attractive and aristocratic hotel yet seen. To begin with it was of immense size. We walked on beautiful white marble floors. We rode wide marble stairs. Our luncheon was of the best; waters, immaculate, were black suits, white ties and tails. They were dignified and especially good looking.

We admired very much a building that covered an immense piece of land. It was called the Exposition building. A great deal of blue tile was used in the outside construction of the building. There were several small arched bridges over a small stream that were made entirely of blue tile. They were beautiful beyond words.

Many Poor People If ever we wanted to linger it was in this charming city. As always there are other sides that make one unhappy. For here, as in most places, you find the unfortunate. There are many very, very poor people, so many tagged children, and a horde of beggars, men, women and children. Our guide was constantly showing and telling interesting facts. He pointed out an orange tree heavily laden with oranges that he said was 600 years old. I think that tree should be knighted; Seville oranges are known the world over. They have a bitter orange that makes wonderful marmalade. We used to be able to buy it in the States. Olive trees in Spain reach the ripe old age of 1,000 years and are good bearers for many years.

Roadside Interesting We found the road to Seville of much interest. For miles on either side of the highway were eucalyptus trees of great size. They are seldom seen in our country. I know of two or three in Assembly park. They are choice trees.

We passed scores of donkeys, truly beasts of burden for they were always loaded to the hilt and we felt sorry for them. It was not unusual to see great herds of goats and tended as a shepherd would watch his flock. Goat milk is extensively used in the home and much is made into cheese.

View Salt Beds Many salt beds were seen as we motored along. They are canals into which the salt water drains. Where the water evaporates there is lovely white salt. We saw it piled up like the Egyptian pyramids, not so high of course.

We could not escape going through the center of the wine industry. They produce at Jerez the finest white wine in the world. After a motor trip of nearly 200 miles in not a too comfortable bus we were happy to again be in our Viking ship. Hastily written, Love, Your Mother.

Frozen Pile Alters Playing Style

When the dealer turns up a wild card or a red three as the turn-up card, the discard pile is born frozen. This often has a decided effect on the tactics of both sides.

If you meld from your hand when the pile is frozen, you do not unfreeze the pile for your partner. He cannot take the pile with one matching card and a wild card; he still needs a pair of natural cards that match the previous discard. However, your meld does relieve your partner of the need of making the initial count.

How much help does this represent? Considerable, if the minimum count is 120 points. But if the meld is only 50 points, your help is probably not needed. When the required count is 90 points, the meld is sometimes a great help and sometimes unnecessary.

The next question is: What does it cost you to help your partner? If you must put down more than half of your hand to meld 120 points, you will then have trouble discarding. Hence there is great danger that your meld will give the discard pile to the enemy instead of to your partner.

Even if you can make the meld of 120 points with only four cards (two jokers and a high pair), your meld from the hand may be of doubtful value. Perhaps you could have won the pile yourself by keeping the meld in your hand instead of putting it on the table.

The most important time to meld from your hand with a pack that is born frozen is when you really don't care about the discard pile. If you have a very fine play for a fast run, meld quickly and ask your partner (by means of this fast meld) to help you meld out.

If he can add a few important cards, you can end the hand before anybody takes the pile. Even if he is not able to help that much, the chances are that you can meld out before the opponents have done anything drastic.

Q—Are you ever allowed to discard a red three in Canasta or Samba?

A—You are never allowed to discard a red three under any circumstances at all in either Canasta or Samba. The only time a red three can ever find its way into the discard pile is when the dealer turns up a red three to begin the discard pile at the very beginning of a hand.

Questions and Answers

Q—Is it possible for human beings to sleep with their eyes open?

A—Experiments have proved it can be done; but, comparatively few persons can sleep with open eyes unless they are extremely tired.

Q—What did the initials V.D.B. on the 1909-S Lincoln penny signify?

A—They are the initials of the designer of the coin, Victor D. Brenner.

Q—Who were the Conquistadores?

A—Any one of the leaders in the Spanish conquest of America, especially of Mexico and Peru, in the 16th century.

Q—The songs sung by the Venetian gondoliers have given us what musical term?

A—Barcarolle.

Q—Who invented the rocking chair?

A—Benjamin Franklin.

Pegler Tells the Story of Copper Miners and of Harrison M. Lavender

(Copyright, 1949, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

EDITOR'S NOTE: Westbrook Pegler is having a slight operation to remove cartilage on an injured knee. After his brief hospitalization he will take his annual vacation of four weeks. Today's column is the last until after his vacation. The exact date on which Mr. Pegler will resume writing will be announced.

A few days ago Harrison M. Lavender died in the house in La Jolla, California, which he had built and furnished in the last year of his life to be his home after his retirement from the copper mining industry in Arizona. Everything about Harry Lavender was fine and I would like to tell the unique story of his life. It may revive the wavering faith of some of our dependents.

I hope I will not be high-sounding about this.

Harry's father was a captain of our navy who retired because he had developed tuberculosis of the lungs. He took his wife, two sons and a daughter to Alaska in the gold rush. Mrs. Lavender soon died and the father came back to the States with the children. My information on the daughter is rather sketchy. She was sent to a Sisters' school, married and, according to my informants, died a few years ago.

Harry was about three years old when they came back from Alaska. His brother was about 16. Mr. Lavender took the boys to Telluride, Colo., a gold camp then, and three years later he died, leaving the older boy with a six-year-old kid brother on his hands.

This young man got two rooms upstairs over the New Sheridan saloon in Telluride and busied himself at mining. In later years, he was very prominent in copper.

The little boy's best friend was a fero-dealer in the gambling room of the New Sheridan who gave him a pearl gray derby. Harry so cherished this grey derby that when his sister, now an elegant young lady, came to town for a short visit and tried to bribe him to ditch it for a sissy sailor with silk ribbons on the side, Harry was morally shocked. She did not seem to realize that she was asking him to repudiate his friend, the fero-dealer.

To sweeten the inducement, she offered to take him to a circus which was coming to town. Harry did not see the circus, although in his heart he could imagine no more beautiful experience. His sister went back to North Dakota, doubting that her little brother ever would amount to anything. Hanging around a gambling house and drinking saloon. Listening to rough talk from coarse miners. And wearing that terrible hat.

Harry's diet was entirely steak and fried potatoes, except, occasionally, ham and eggs or bacon and eggs, and fried potatoes. And, of course, coffee.

But Miss Fanny Dempsey, a waitress in the dining room, began to take a hand in his raising and made him eat oatmeal for breakfast. She seems to have been the first influential woman in his conscious life, for he had lost his mother when he was hardly more than a baby.

When Harry was ten he bought a pop-corn route from another boy. The clientele consisted mainly of the girls in the brothels. They were pleasant individuals and Mr. Lavender had a sincerely favorable opinion of them in his later years.

In his late teens, Harry hobbled across the northwest, working the harvest in the wheat country, which was a rather common experience of young men out that way in those years. After that, with the guidance of his brother, he went through the Colorado School of Mines, playing off the football team most of the way. A few years ago at my home in Tucson he modestly told Gene Fowler that he had received some pleasant mention in the paper under the by-line of a cub sports writer of the same name. They struck up a mutual admiration which was well justified. Gene, be it remembered, had a childhood similar to Harry's. He was a waif almost, the son of a father who had simply wandered off and had never come back. His grandmother raised him.

Harry Lavender took part in the Bisbee Deportation of 1917, in which vigilantes rounded up a lot of miners and shoved them over to Deming, N. M., in box-cars. He was not proud of that. Unquestionably, the strike and many brutal attacks on loyal American miners were fomented by Austrians and Turks in the mine who were enemy aliens then, Mexican Villistas and Wobblies devoted to chaos as a means of demolishing our capitalist republic. But Harry said the deportation was an emotional exploit conjured by a few imaginative hot-heads whose scheme got momentum and couldn't be checked.

At first the men were herded into the local ball-yard. The late Jack Greenway, one of Theodore Roosevelt's old Rough Riders, covered them with a gatling gun from a roof. He had no occasion to fire and the men went peacefully into the cars when the time came, but Harry often said that if they had just had the presence of mind to lie down and stay down the deportation would have failed. There wasn't enough manpower or organization to man-handle them into the cars. Incidentally, President Wilson and Newton D. Baker, the secretary of war were howling for more and more copper.

After that, Harry went to the war as a lieutenant of infantry. His first wife was killed in an automobile smash. A few years ago, he married the widow of the late Stewart Brush, and when he took his beautiful bride, Michael, to Denver on their honeymoon the first social visit they made was a call on Miss Fanny Dempsey, who admonished the new Mrs. Lavender to be sure to make him eat his oatmeal.

Harry was very brave but it was not from him that I learned the details of the time that a blast in a new drift in the big mine at Bisbee blew out the last barrier against an unsuspected underground lake, letting a terrific flood into the mine. This was 2,000 feet down. In advancing new drifts, Arizona miners keep a sort of door moving forward in just such a case. But this time the door was fouled by some stray lumber and the men could not close it readily. They ran for their lives. Harry was some distance off but he rushed down the drift, swam to door, freed it, and closed it, shutting out the flood.

For more than two years, Harry had known that he had a very dangerous condition which often is fatal. Nevertheless, he insisted on putting up the house at La Jolla for his declining years. A few days ago one of those bad Arizona dust storms irritated his lungs and in 48 hours he was gone.

Harry was the active superintendent of all the copper mining works of Phelps-Dodge in Arizona and northern Mexico. He was a big, stocky man with a ruddy face, gray temples and a strange shyness. It is beyond me to convey the nobility of this great soul, his affection and his uncompromising observance of his principles, which, of course, were beautiful ideals.

A great new open pit mine, now being developed at Bisbee, is called the Harrison M. Lavender pit.

I made it plain a month ago that I was opposed to action that would involve us or our allies of the United Nations in a war with China.

Prayer for TODAY

Father God, help us who are parents to rear our children with much patience and wisdom, that they may learn to stand on their own feet, make up their own minds, and move under their own power. While we give them support, help us to teach them self reliance and inspire in them a first hand, living faith in thee, Amen.

—W. Emory Hartman, Columbus, O., minister, The Bexta Methodist Church.

Former French Model Tells Plans for Working Girls Club

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

This is the story of a French girl, equipped with both beauty and brains, who came to America to seek her fortune.

Tanya Pitt came to the United States from Paris five years ago, one of eight French models hired by a large cosmetics and drug corporation to tour the country demonstrating a home permanent wave.

Tanya stayed on, became one of New York's most successful fashion models. Now she is launching an ambitious new enterprise designed to supply a mid-town club, complete with lounge, telephone service, snack bar, showers, dressing rooms and attendant beauticians, for the big town's working girls.

Life Membership
All this will cost one dollar for a life membership, with an additional fee of 25 cents per visit.

Tanya is calling her new venture "Pamper House." And plans to open it next month in the newest of the Rockefeller Center buildings, where she has leased a large section of the basement concourse.

She will employ a staff of 20 people, supply various services such as massages, checking and the free advice of attendant beauticians.

During World War II, Tanya worked for the American Red Cross in London. During that period she was married and, as she

Hart Students Receive Awards During Recital

At the recital presented in the Rochelle Township high school Sunday afternoon, March 23, by the Hart Music Studios, awards were presented by Miss Hart to 21 honor students: Dwight Hedrick, Mae Fuls, Carol Sward, Judy Stangley, Bobby Schnorr, Karen Voss, Nedra Casey, Gary Buerston, Jon Fuls, Marie Cook, Gene Bothe, Judith Ann Cheeseman, Phyllis Lawson, Shirley Woessner, Carole Mong, Geraldine Caldwell, Carmen Haenitsch, Patsy Schnorr, Janet Warner, Beverly Van Amburg, and Rosemarie Myers.

Others on the honor roll were ten more pupils: Nancy Richman, Janet Kime, Carol Voss, Nancy Brooks, Kathryn Sisson, Connie Harris, Delores Blocher, Barbara Biester, Ronnie Mershon, and Tamalle Lookingland.

Miss Marcia Sandahl, vocal teacher at the studios, presented two of her students: Linda Knight and Myrna Hurlbut, both of whom had placed in the district music contest.

Sharon Sward and Kay Fuls were announcers. Stag helpers were Mrs. Donald Lichty, Shirley Gittleson, Larry Woessner, and Warren Bunger.

If your blanket bindings are especially dirty, try tackling them with frothy soapsuds and a soft brush before plunging the entire blanket into the laundry water.

Betsi Hoon To Be Among Attendants At DuQuoin Event

Miss Betsi Hoon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hoon, 321 East McKinney st., has been selected by the Dixon Woman's club to attend the Egyptian Music camp at DuQuoin, Ill., in June. Selection was made by the music department of the club for the Dixonite to represent the club at this year's camp.

A junior at Dixon high school, Betsi, a talented pianist studied with Mrs. Dwight Chapman, Dixon, for 10 years; and Miss Helen Wicke, Rockford for a year and a half. A member of the Dixon high school band for three years, she plays tympani and bells.

Betsi has played the piano and bass violin with the high school orchestra for two years and has accompanied the school chorus for two years. She has been pianist and played the bass violin with the Sophisti-Kats, a local swing group, for three years and for a year she was pianist with Dave Ruckert's band.

To fit a candle snugly into its holder, try this trick. Light a kitchen match and carefully hold the flame to the wrong end of the taper, moving it about until the entire base of the candle is soft and drippy. Then extinguish the match, and quickly press the candle into its candlestick. Be sure to arrange it in a perfectly upright position before the wax hardens.

WSCS Circle IV Hears Date for District Meeting

Mrs. Herbert Schumacher entertained members of Circle IV of the WSCS of the Methodist church at her home recently. There were 17 members attending. Her assistants were Mrs. Daisy Brenner and Mrs. James Ketchin.

The meeting was called to order by vice chairman, Mrs. R. H. Campbell. Mrs. Harry Quick gave the devotion, her subject being "Humbleness" and followed with a prayer.

The district meeting to be held in Dixon April 24, was announced. An invitation from Circle 1 for their Spring Luncheon, March 28, was read.

Mrs. R. H. Campbell presented Mrs. F. G. Eno who gave the last chapters from the study book, "The Book of Acts."

Sixty-five sick calls were reported.

The meeting closed with Mrs. C. F. Johnston reading several verses from the song, "Faith of Our Fathers."

The April meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Harry Quick.

To cleanse and sweeten vacuum bottles, decanters and other small-necked containers that do not readily admit a brush, or for which soaking is an inadvisable procedure, try this method. Make up a mild solution of baking soda water, and pour it into the bottle.

Swish the liquid about vigorously; then empty the soda solution and rinse with clear water. Invert the bottle upon a dish-draining rack to dry.

Crystal scratches crystal, so be careful in washing. Soap and water, plus individual polishing with a cloth, will make it shine.

'Trends in Employment for Women' Theme of Panel for AAUW Meet Monday Night

The American Association of University Women will have its postponed regular meeting Monday evening, March 31, at 8 o'clock at the Loveland Community House. "Trends in Employment for Women" will be the theme of a panel discussion presented under the sponsorship of the committee on Status of Women. The panel will be composed of Miss Agatha Tosney, Mrs. Ralph T. Fennell, Miss Nell Hall, and Miss Evelyn Street, each representing a different field in women's work.

Miss Tosney has an A. B. from the University of Chicago, majored in English history, and mathematics and upon graduation went immediately into work with the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois.

Mrs. Fennell holds an A. B. from Manchester college. She is married and the mother of two children and has lived in many places, having attended high school in Chicago. She is now correspondent for the Dixon area of the Consolidated Press, a radio news reporter and an official United Press reporter. Miss Nell Hall is a graduate nurse, holds a B. S. from Texas State College for Women, and is now administrative dietitian at Dixon State Hospital. She has also spent three years in China with the Southern Baptist Mission board and has worked for the Illinois department of Public Welfare in state hospitals in Anna, East Moline, Peoria, and Dixon.

Miss Evelyn Street spent several years when a child in Mexico where her father was a civil engineer. A graduate from the Dixon high school, she also holds degrees from Coe College, Columbia university, and is also a graduate nurse from an Evanston hospital. She has served as a nurse at Coe College, and was later assistant dean of women at Coe. She has been with the American Red Cross in the home nursing department, served with the Army Nurse Corps in England during World War II and is now director of Cancer Services for the American Cancer Society.

Chairman of the sponsoring committee is Miss Esther Barton, assisted by committee members, Mrs. H. Jones, Mrs. E. W. Merrick, Miss Ruby Naitras, Miss Evelyn Street and Mrs. R. Shaw.

The hostess committee for the evening will have Mrs. G. W. Lindquist as chairman. She will be assisted by Miss Wilma McCune, Mrs. G. F. Nichols, Miss Valborg Nielson, Mrs. Margaret Richards, Mrs. R. L. Sawyer, Miss Evelyn Street, and Miss Marie Worley.

County Council Guests at Legion Auxiliary Meeting

Guests at the meeting of the American Legion auxiliary Wednesday evening at the Legion hall were members of the Lee county council. A scramble supper was served at 6:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Richard Hammerstrom, auxiliary president, called the meeting to order following the supper. Chaplain, Mrs. Don Nolan, gave a prayer.

Mrs. Marcella Rhoads, Lee County Council president, conducted a short business meeting. Mrs. Walter Stevens, of Pawpaw, 13th district president, was among those present. Other members attending were from Amboy, Compton and Pawpaw.

Dr. I. A. Katz, chairman of Dixon's Blood Bank, told of his experiences during World War II when he was in the medical division and of the lives saved by blood. He appealed to the public for blood donors. Anyone wishing to give blood is asked to contact Dr. Katz or auxiliary chairman, Mrs. Roy DeWitt.

Members of the auxiliary who left for Chicago this morning to attend the Patriotic conference were: Mrs. Don Nolan, Mrs. Don Phillips, Mrs. Herb Chadwick, Mrs. H. F. Walder and Mrs. Roy DeWitt, also, Mrs. Lester Ommen, Second division president, and Mrs. Walter W. Stevens, 13th district director.

Mrs. George Walker, music chairman, was in charge of the short program. Several accordion solos were presented by Jane Ann Howe and Melissa Jane Reuter.

Pilot Lands Flaming Plane In Wheat Field, 50 Saved

HUGOTON, Kan. —(AP)—“The only sensible thing to do was land.” That was the only comment from Chief Pilot Jack Stanford who helped land a flaming airliner with 50 persons aboard in a wheat field yesterday. Only one passenger was injured.

The Braniff Airlines’ DC-4 came down with one of its four engines gone and a wing in flames. The landing was perfect. Minutes after the 45 passengers and five crew members scurried out, flames consumed virtually the entire plane.

Neither Stanford nor Co-Pilot John Beakley, both of Dallas, Tex., would take credit for an extraordinary job.

But O. R. Stites, an Oklahoma City lawyer who was a passenger, described the landing “as smooth as any I’ve ever seen.”

He gave his description:

Spots Fire

“I was sitting on the right side about two seats back of the wing when I noticed fire around the right inboard engine. I called the stewardesses and they went forward to tell the captain (Stanford).

“He came back, took one quick look and told us to fasten our safety belts. Then he banked the plane to put the stress on the opposite wing and started down. I judged we were about 6,000 feet above ground then.

“About halfway down the motor fell off.

“No one talked at all. I guess they were too scared, just like I was.”

Could Feel Heat

Stites said the passengers “could feel the heat of the flames as we came into the wheat field.”

Another passenger was W. C. (Bill) McPhail, general manager of the Colorado Springs, Colo., Skyrox in the Western Baseball League.

“I don’t know much about airplanes,” McPhail said. “But I still don’t see how the pilot ever got us down. When we landed, they threw apples out the doors and out an emergency door on the left side of the plane.

“Most of the men jumped down, but the women slid down the ropes. One of the women, who said she was 82, wrapped a magazine around the rope to protect her hands and slid right on down.

Plane Alight

“It seemed that we had no sooner got out of the plane than the whole thing burst into flames.”

The injured passenger was Miss Jesse Watts, Greensboro, N. C., who skinned a leg sliding down a rope.

The plane was en route from Denver to Oklahoma City. The

Western Bank Firm Ordered To Dissolve

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The Federal Reserve Board voted 3 to 2 today to order a breakup of the Transamerica Corporation’s big banking empire in five western states.

The majority found that the corporation—which controls seven billion dollars in bank deposits and half the bank loans in California, Oregon, Nevada, Washington and Arizona—tends to “lessen competition and restrain commerce.”

In a minority dissent, James K. Vardman Jr., said the record “fails to warrant or sustain” such a conclusion.

Board member Oliver S. Powell joined Vardman in the dissent. Chairman William M. Martin Jr., M. S. Szyzycak and R. M. Evans, the hearing officer, made up the majority.

Transamerica was built up over a period of many years by the late A. P. Giannini.

The case, the first ever launched by the reserve board against a bank holding company under the Clayton Anti-Trust Act, is almost certain to be appealed to federal courts and eventually to the supreme court.

Transamerica attorneys contend the company is being prosecuted just because it is big. They say it faces plenty of competition where it operates.

The reserve board counsel argues that Transamerica has a majority or close to a majority of commercial banking facilities in widespread areas.

Captures Reds

CPL. FELCHNER SPOTTS, son of Mr. and Mrs. Felchner Spotts, 1012 Madison av., Dixon, has been reported as recently capturing three Chinese Communists while serving with a heavy tank unit in Korea. Spotts wounded two of the Communists and captured the third, a woman. All three were then returned as prisoners. The 20-year-old Spotts was wounded last June and taken to a Japanese hospital for treatment. When he recovered, he was returned to duty. He enlisted in the army in September, 1950, and has been stationed at Camp Breckinridge, Ky., Norfolk, Va., and Camp Stoneman, Calif. He left for Korea in May, 1951. His address is: 15th Inf. Regt. Hvy. Tank Co.; APO 468, San Francisco.

Identical Triplets Are 84...

MARLBORO, Mass.—(AP)—Three spry ladies—possibly the country’s oldest triplets—are observing their 84th birthday today.

The former, Faith, Hope and Charity Coughlin are identical triplets.

They looked so much alike when they started school in their native North Brookfield, their mother put them into different dresses to give the teachers a break.

When they wear identical dresses nowadays, even old neighbors get confused. But they only put them on for special occasions.

All widows, the triplets still are exactly the same height and weigh almost the same. All boast of good teeth. None worries about diets.

Their once blonde hair has turned a uniform gray. Although all wear spectacles, their blue eyes are still bright.

Supervisors of 10 Counties Oppose Illinois Rabies Bill

Fifteen members from the Northern zone of the Illinois association of supervisors and county commissioners voted yesterday afternoon to oppose the rabies bill now before the Illinois state legislature, until it can be made self-supporting.

March meeting of the group held in Dixon township building. Ten counties were represented.

The rabies bill, according to A. C. Higby, Dixon supervisor, would force the county to spend additional money to support a veterinarian which would be required if the bill were passed.

To Study Advertising

In other action, the group voted to investigate the legal requirements in the newspaper advertising elections. According to several association members, half page ads have been used for the purpose of announcing the color of the election ballots.

It was decided to refer the question to a legislative committee to investigate advertising requirements as set up by the state.

Civil defense also came in for considerable discussion with the association taking no vote, but agreeing that if such a system is to be set up, each county should not be forced to spend the high cost for the needed equipment. The state and federal governments, it was suggested, should foot the bill.

Schedule Meetings

The Dixon township meeting was also scheduled for Tuesday, April 1, in the township offices at 8 p.m.

Other meeting days announced were the county official’s meeting in Chicago May 1, 2 and 3, at the Sherman hotel, and a director’s meeting April 24 in Springfield.

Present were: Tom Olsen, DeKalb; Mike Weiler, Aurora; Glen Mount, Warrenville; J. M. Weeks, Rochelle; William Rich, DeKalb; Harold P. Dinton, Wheaton; J. Ambrose Long, Polo; J. L. Bemis, Oregon; William Nagle, Woodstock; vice president; S. E. Kuhn, Oregon; George Thome, Rock Falls; Harry Hurd, Jr., Tampico; Paul F. Sonnenman, Sterling, vice president; S. C. Pierce, Rockford, president; and Higby, Dixon, secretary.

UN Seeking Compromise On POW Plan

MUNSAN, Korea, (AP)—Korean truce negotiators today swapped detailed explanations of how they want to exchange prisoners of war as the U.N. command openly sought a compromise.

An official allied spokesman said “neither optimism nor pessimism is justified” at this point in the secret sessions.

“We have been seeking a way to compromise on prisoner exchange,” said Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, official U.N. spokesman.

The prisoner exchange negotiators went into executive session Tuesday so they could exchange opinions freely.

tion that the internal revenue bureau had already received a large tax payment and was making claims with penalties which might exceed the total profit.

Explains Action

“My action in this matter was intended to encourage quick and proper action by the government.”

Bridges said he had known Maloney as a “competent public official” and had felt confident Maloney would not ask him to “make an inquiry which would be improper.”

The senator added that if Maloney had made any reference to any fraud charge being involved in the case “I would have made no inquiry.”

As for Gruenwald, Bridges said he had known him for many years and that the acquaintance “has been a pleasant one.” He added: “I should like to say categorically that Mr. Gruenwald has never represented me in this or any other matter.”

A Certainty

One thing appeared certain: That the CIO steelworkers union, headed by Philip Murray, will get nowhere in negotiations with steel firms until the administration makes up its mind. The companies said they’ll need price boosts of $12 a ton if they grant the WSB-recommended terms.

RIGHTS FOR WOMEN

GENEVA, Switzerland, (AP)—A United Nations group approved today a draft convention aimed at getting women equal political rights with men all over the world.

The U.N. commission on the status of women will submit the convention to the Economic and Social Council. About 20 governments do not yet grant women the right to vote.

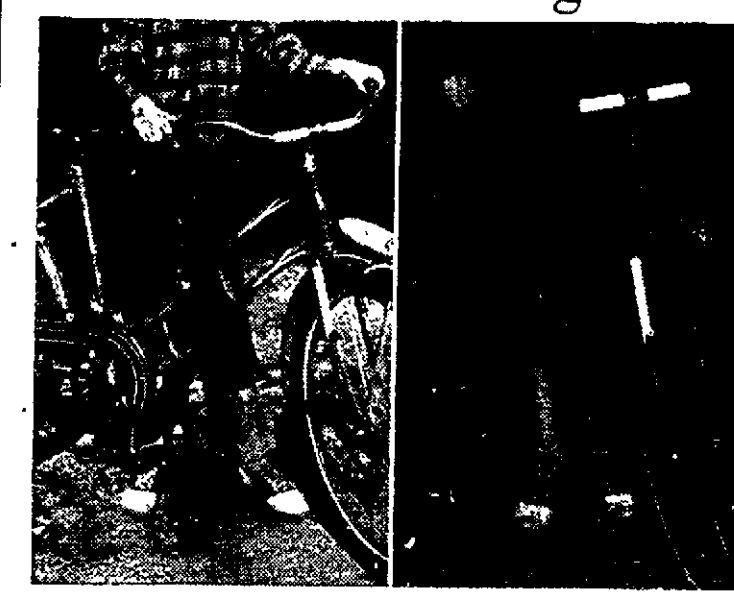

One person in every 10 in the United States received some kind of Red Cross assistance or training in 1951.

Gordon Bennett On Honor Roll

Gordon R. Bennett, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Bennett, sr., Rt. 3, Dixon, has been listed on the first semester honor roll at Lake Forest college.

Bennett is a junior at Lake Forest and is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity.

‘Lite-a-Bike’ Drive Begins

THE SECOND ANNUAL “Lite-a-Bike” campaign will begin Saturday in Dixon at the fire station. The drive, a part of the annual junior chamber of commerce safety campaign, will continue until April 15. Working in cooperation with the local organization will be the Dixon fire department, which will equip each bicycle in the city with seven strips of “Scotchlite” as above that will reflect headlights at night. Firemen will place four white strips on the front of each bicycle and three red strips on the rear. According to Vernon Swan, Jaycee chairman, each rider bringing his bike to the fire house will also receive an identification card with a list of safety rules. Riders may bring the bikes to the fire station between 9 a. m. and 4 p. m. for the “Lite-a-Bike” service.

Federal Price Support of '52 Oat Crop Set at 78.7 Cents

DECATUR, (AP)—The Production and Marketing Administration (PMA) has announced federal price support rates of about 78 cents a bushel on the 1952 crop of oats.

PMA handles the federal farm price support program.

Howard G. Abbott, PMA committee man from Decatur, said the statewide average loan rate on oats for 1952 is 78.7 cents a bushel, six cents higher than in 1951. The national average rate for oats is 78 cents a bushel.

The support for oats will be available to farmers from time of harvest through Jan. 31, 1953, the agriculture official said, and loans will mature on demand, though not later than April 30, 1953.

The PMA also issued a report showing that Illinois farmers put more than 2½ million bushels of soybeans under price support.

Abbott said the state’s total soybean yield was 94,600,000 bushels.

He said the market price of soybeans “is high enough that farmers can profitably sell their beans and pay off their support loans.

“Much the same situation is true of price supported oats,” he said, “but the government may wind up owning some Illinois produced wheat if the market price does not go much higher before the loan maturity date.”

However, farmers also have comparatively little wheat or oats under price support, Abbott said.

Up to the Jan. 31 deadline, 632, 778 bushels of wheat and 393,391 bushels of oats were under support, the PMA market report said. The 1951 crop of oats in the state totaled 134 million bushels and wheat 33 million bushels.

Local Sailor Flown Here After Father Died, Awaits Ship

A Dixon sailor, Wendell Vickrey, is now home on emergency leave until Monday after a flying trip brought him home from the Mediterranean following the death of his father, Forrest Vickrey, March 3.

Vickrey arrived home March 13. His brother, Lt. Carol Vickrey, stationed at Tinker AFB, Oklahoma City, was also home on emergency leave until last Friday.

They are the sons of Mrs. Irene Vickrey, 820 Chicago av.

Wendell received word of his father’s death when his ship, the carrier U.S.S. Midway, was at Palermo, Sicily, March 6. He returned to the United States by navy plane and then to Dixon by a commercial airline.

Upon completion of his leave he will go to Norfolk, Va., and await the Midway’s return to this country, expected sometime late in April.

The other son, Carol, is to leave Tinker AFB April 17 for Mississippi where he will begin a 17-month course in pilot training.

Young Mother Asks Divorce In Court Here

A mother of a two-month-old child filed suit for divorce yesterday in the office of Circuit Clerk John O. Shaulis, Jr., charging that her husband had twice threatened her life and twice beaten her while he was under the influence of alcohol.

The mother, Rosemary Bontz, 707 Highland av., charged that her husband, Kenneth A. Bontz, (1) on Sept. 18, 1951, when she was five months pregnant, struck and beat her on the face, that (2) on Oct. 15 he struck her and cut her lip and that (3) once during the last week in February he threatened her life and then did so again on March 24.

They were married June 16, 1951, in Amboy and lived together until March 25, 1952.

In the suit Mrs. Bontz requested alimony and support for the infant. Her attorney is S. D. Crowell, Oregon.

Mitchell suffered a stroke Monday in his Evanston home.

He was prominent in the utilities industry in Chicago for many years.

Tells House Committee of Economy Stand

Advocates Budget Balance During Present Emergency

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The American Farm Bureau Federation again has recommended substantial cuts in agriculture department funds.

This was disclosed today in testimony of Allen B. Kline, its president, before the House agriculture appropriations subcommittee.

Rep. Whitten (D-Miss), chairman of the subcommittee, didn’t like the idea. He told Kline: “Says Its Disturbing

“It is disturbing to me to see the head of the great Farm Bureau organization come in here this year as he did last year and recommend, with only two exceptions curtailment of programs so vital in my judgment to the welfare of the nation.”

Kline, advocating a balancing of the budget, called for all possible reduction in federal expenditures in this emergency including cuts for agriculture “which directly affect us.”

The bureau president proposed increases in appropriations of $4,300,000 for research; four million dollars for the extension service and an “adequate” meat inspection service, but urged heavy slashes elsewhere.

Propose Cuts

He proposed that the agriculture conservation program be axed from $255 millions down to $100 millions in 1953; that the soil conservation service be trimmed 20 per cent of $12,200,000; that the forest service be reduced four million dollars, the agricultural production program be cut nine million dollars and the farmers home administration be trimmed 20 per cent or $5,600,000.

Kline contended that Whitten wasn’t putting the bureau’s position in the proper light. He said: “The amount of money and time and effort that goes into this appropriation must either be transferred from the people to the government and come back or else it has to be done by the people. We think there are far more effective ways of doing it than channeling a lot of additional efforts into the federal government at the present time.”

Pregnant Goat Has Play Cast Worried a Bit

SAN FRANCISCO —(AP)—Brunhilde, a pregnant white goat, is out stage again. But impending motherhood has the cast a bit worried.

Nightly Brunhilde appears twice at the Curran theater in Tennessee Williams’ “Rose Tattoo,” each time she’s chased. And that’s a bit strenuous, you know.

Previously Brunhilde appeared here in “Mr. Roberts.” But her casting was cut short. She gave birth to twins in a taxi.

Tattoo’s publicity director, Ned Armstrong, said: “We close here April 5. If she can only hold out until then.”

Why won’t any other goat do? Brunhilde is reported to be the only pure white goat in the area.

Racketeers Bitten

CLEVELAND, (AP)—Federal tax men are putting the bite on 500 racketeers in the Cleveland district to the tune of $1,500,000.

Richard O’Hanlon, who heads the campaign in five states, estimated 1,500 more cases against gamblers and other criminals have not yet been settled in the office here.

Woofle Dust Sold Today at Ashton Auction

ASHTON—A box of woofle dust was sold here this afternoon complete with a how-to-use demonstration.

It was all a part of Ashton's big auction sale for high school band uniform funds. And a legal holiday was proclaimed by Village President William Ventler to assure everybody an opportunity to be at the school grounds at 1 o'clock to make his bid. Schools were dismissed for the afternoon and most stores were closed.

The woofle dust was auctioned to the highest bidder by Magician Ralph Pierce. Just what woofle dust is a trade secret, Ralph pointed out.

But everything wasn't that intangible. A late model car or new truck was planned to be sold, and other articles included farm equipment, merchandise and furniture.

What's Your Notion of Magnificent Motion?

WE'LL admit that we're taking in a lot of territory when we use a word with the definition shown above.

But no lesser term can do justice to all the things that make a Buick such a joy to drive and to own.

Splendor and sumptuous adornment you'll certainly find in its rich interior—grandeur you'll certainly find in the mighty flow of its power.

But all this is only background for what is accurately termed its Million Dollar Ride.

Yes, sir, magnificent is the word for this majestic beauty in motion.

There's an earth-hugging, mile-skimming feel to it, as it bullets along the highway.

It holds a straight course without weave or wander—seems to snug down to the road on curves.

A massive X-braced frame gives it solidity. A torque-tube firms its keel. End-sway and side-roll are neutralized. The engine is Hi-Poised mounted on rubber pillows—and big, soft-acting coil springs on all four wheels soak up the jars and jolts, float you over the road-ripples, "wash-board gravel" or weather-pocked macadam as if they weren't there.

Even its Dynaflo Drive* contributes to the smoothness of its forward motion by cushioning the transmission of its power.

How about taking one of this year's Buicks—SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER—on a cruise of discovery all your own?

Touch off its Fireball 8 Engine that's a gas-saving high-compression valve-in-head—head it out for the roads you know by past experience—and let it speak for itself. Even the price tag is eloquent proof that this is the car for you.

Ever try running a Model T Ford on aviation gasoline? Burned out the valves and popped her gaskets, didn't it? Feeding today's shells into a damascus-barreled shotgun does much the same thing—except that it's more than damagin; it's actually unsafe.

The heyday of damascus barrels came between 1875-1900. Thousands of damascus-tubed shotguns were imported into this country from Belgium and England, thousands more put up in our own gun plants. But regardless of flossy engraving and handsome stocks, the best of these muskets are as out of date as the Stanley Steamer—and they're dangerous.

Those weapons were built when black powder was standard for shot shells and were designed for pressures no higher than 6000 pounds per square inch. Today's high-velocity shot shell loadings with modern progressive-burning powders develop pressures between 8500 and 12,500 pounds per square inch. Therefore, even if the damascus oldtimer was built with a 100 per cent safety margin, it is on the ragged edge with modern shot shells.

Many damascus owners figure they can get by without losing a hand or an eye by using "light" loads. You might shoot the oldtimer the rest of your life without a blow-up. You might get away with passing on blind curves, too.

The "light" loads have nothing to do with it. Under certain conditions of shot shell loading, wadding pressures, the types of powder, chamber measurements, the pressures in hulls throwing shot charges under maximum will run just as high as in duck loads of 4's. A damascus-barreled shotgun will blow up only once, and it's very nearly as likely to let go with low-based shells as it is with the high-brass type.

Furthermore, most of those oldtimers were built with chambers for 2-9/16 or 2-5/8 shells. Fired length. Most 1952 shotgun fodder comes with a pic crimp—except for the hulls made by Federal with their bustible top load—and today's pic-crimp shells all open out to 2-3/4 fired length, regardless of what they may measure before you shoot 'em.

When you fire a long hull in a short chamber the cardboard unfurls into the forcing cone of your barrel, the tapering section between chamber and bore, and partially plugs it up. Pressures rise as much as 15 per cent. This stunt in a damascus job makes a bad matter worse.

How can you spot a damascus barrel? They may be marked as London Twist, Belgian Laminated, Damascus barrels are usually browned, not blued like modern tubes. Always you can see an indelible part of the metal a wavy spiralling grain, often in definite handsome patterns.

The spiral pattern comes from the method of construction. Alternate strips of iron and steel, of low tensile strength by today's pressures, were twisted and welded into ribbons. These in turn were twisted around a mandrel and welded into a tube through which the finished barrel could be bored. Look for the twist pattern.

If you have a fowling piece with damascus tubes, no matter how sweetly it points, give it well-earned retirement. Hang it over the mantelpiece. If you just don't give a hoot about your left hand or right eye, at least call your insurance man for accident insurance rates.

Amboy to Hear John Lujack

Football Star Will Speak at Banquet May 1

AMBOY—John Lujack is coming to Amboy. The former Notre Dame football star, presently on the Chicago Bears roster, will speak at the annual Chamber of Commerce athletic dinner honoring athletes of Amboy high school.

Date for the annual banquet has been set tentatively for Thursday, May 1.

Harold Carroll, chairman of the event this year, announced this week that Lujack has agreed to speak. Lujack has won almost every honor that might come to a football player in his career.

Big 10 Bans Phone-Call Recruiting

CHICAGO —(AP)—Coaches in the Big Ten conference have been ordered not to use telephones for recruiting high school athletes.

Commissioner K. L. (Tug) Wilson sent a memorandum to this effect yesterday to Big Ten faculty representatives and athletic directors.

Contacts with blue-chip athletes may now be made by coaches only through personal interviews on their own campuses or through correspondence.

Joe Must Travel
There will be no more lifting of the receiver and saying: "Hi, Joe—how would you like to play football for us this year?"

The telephone ban as a recruiting agent is the latest action by Wilson in swinging the big club against subsidization under enforcement powers suggested by Big Ten school presidents last week.

The presidents, in a vote of confidence to their athletic leaders, reported there was need for more rigid enforcement of Big Ten recruiting restrictions.

No Collect Calls
Wilson's edict also forbids college coaches to accept collect calls from prospective athletes.

It is no secret that last summer there were some members of conference football and basketball coaching staffs who bombarded promising athletes with phone calls for weeks.

Wilson is empowered to summon a hearing and has the authority to impose penalties to any violators of the order.

Knicks Trip Celtics in 2 Overtimes

BOSTON —(AP)—The New York Knicks basketball team were one step closer to the Eastern division National Basketball association championship today after eliminating the Boston Celtics, 88-87, last night in a double overtime game at the Garden.

Ernie Vanderweeghe sank a foul shot in the final two seconds of the second extra period to give the Knicks the victory and the right to meet the Syracuse Nationals. That series begins in Syracuse on April 2.

Play for Crown
Minneapolis and Rochester will meet for the Western division crown. Playing dates have not been announced yet. The winners of those best-of-five series will meet for the NBA championship.

With the score tied at 87-all in the final two seconds, Vanderweeghe took a pass in the Boston pivot zone and collided with Dickie. A foul was called on Dickie and Vanderweeghe stepped up to the foul line and dropped in the winning point.

Both the Boston players and fans argued afterward that the foul should have been called on Vanderweeghe.

Cousy Sinks 31
Bob Cousy, who poured in 31 points for the Celts, sank three fouls in the final two minutes of regulation time to tie the score at 79-all.

Cousy sank a 36-footer at the end of the first overtime but the referee ruled it was fired after the bell.

Whiz Kids Returning...

By FRANK P. (MERK) METZINGER
(LaSalle News-Tribune Sports Editor)

LA SALLE—(AP)—The immortal Whiz Kids of Illinois are gradually getting back into basketball—as coaches.

Latest of the great team of the 1940's to contemplate a career is Gene Vance, currently the No. 1 candidate for the LaSalle-Peru high school job.

Gene, finishing out the last few months of a service hitch at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., has expressed interest in the job from which Jack Fabri resigned last week.

Art Mathiesen and Ken Parker, also ex-Whiz Kids, are coaches at Danville and Joliet. Ken Menke is at Galesburg.

Vance, who now resides in Peru, is a native of Clinton, Ill., where he first gained prominence in the hardwood sport that later skyrocketed him and his teammates to fame at Illinois. He married a Peru girl and the Vances now have two "Whiz Kids" of their own, both sons.

Urge Parents To Buy Banquet Tickets Early

Members of the Downtown Quarterbacks club, promoters of the All-Sports banquet here April 29, today urged parents of DHS athletes to buy their tickets early if they plan to attend the banquet.

"Only 195 tickets will be sold to the public, so we don't want any of the parents to be left out if they want to attend," a spokesman for the club said.

Tickets are on sale at Fultz, the B&A Sporting Goods store, Hank Henry's and The Manhattan Cafe. Price is $2.50, which includes the cost of the meal of one of the 132 guests, all athletes from Dixon high school.

"Bucky" O'Connor, Iowa university basketball coach, is the main speaker.

GRAPEFRUIT PEELINGS

Warning: Bob Feller Impressive Again

TUCSON, Ariz. —(AP)—Bob Feller has quit "taking it easy" in exhibition games. The results: Impressive.

Until yesterday, Bob was following his early spring training schedule of pitching in relaxed style to lumber up the arm. Then, against the Chicago White Sox, he bore down for the first time.

In four innings, with a crowd of 2,795 cheering him on, he shut out the Sox on three hits and struck out one.

Rookie Red Fahr was less effective. He let Chicago win an 8-5 decision in the ninth, with rookie George Wilson's three-run homer the deciding blow.

Clem's Arm Sore

BRADENTON, Fla. —(AP)—Right-handed Clem Labine, counted on by the Brooklyn Dodgers to take up some of the slack caused by Don Newcombe's induction into the army, has a sore arm.

The youngster has a knot on the inside of the right elbow.

Giants Talk Trade

PHOENIX, Ariz. —(AP)—Trade rumors have been revived in the camp of the New York Giants with the arrival of Pittsburgh General Mgr. Branch Rickey.

Giant Mgr. Leo Durocher is looking for a left-handed pinch-hitter and part-time outfielder. George Metkovich of the Pirates fills the bill. The Giants reportedly are willing to give up catcher Ray Noble, infielder Bob Hofman and pitcher Sheldon Jones or George Bamberger.

Cubs to Switch

MESA, Ariz. —(AP)—There will be a switch in the Chicago Cubs' outfield this season.

Mgr. Phil Cavarretta, who is against juggling his outer garden men, says "it will be Hal Jeffcoat and Bob Addis."

"I just can't help myself," he says. "Neither is outstanding enough to stay in centerfield every day."

Chuck Winner By TKO in 5th Round of Fight

CHICAGO —(AP)—After it was all over you would expect the winning fighter to say: "I murdered de guy."

Instead you heard Chuck Davey orate: "I'm glad the referee stopped it because I would hate to have to see such a great former champion as Ike Williams knocked unconscious."

Blinky Palermo, Ike's manager whose license in Illinois has been suspended pending a probe of a police record, mourned:

"We didn't take Davey seriously enough."

Ike's Silent

Ike, on the dressing table, didn't say a word. There was the impression in the whole room that this one-time lightweight king was washed up at 28 after 149 fights as a pro.

Davey, holder of a masters degree from Michigan State had become a top welterweight contender.

He remained undefeated through 32 professional bouts by scoring a fifth round technical knockout over Williams in the televised schedule 10 rounder in Chicago Stadium last night. Each weighed 145 pounds.

Davey's southpaw style appeared to fluster Williams—a veteran who shouldn't be bewildered by it after beating 10 portersiders in the past.

Davey's speed and buzz-saw cutting was just too much for Ike who kept holding his once-lethal right cocked but couldn't pull the trigger.

Trainer Speaks

Low Tender, the terrific southpaw mauler of the twenties who helped train scholarly Davey, said:

"The kid (he's 26) didn't miss one out of five punches he tossed. He has a swell left, and now he has his right in the box office."

"Davey isn't ready for guys like Gli Turner (also an undefeated welterweight) and Johnny Bratton but he can go against fellows like Chico Vejar and Johnny Saxton right now. In six months, with some one to teach him to punch hard, he can take any of the welters on."

Gets Biggest Purse

Davey, who has been fighting for peanuts and returning the shells, got $2,491 plus $1,500 in television fees for his fight last night. It was his biggest jackpot to date.

Williams got a little more, a total of $4,613.

The crowd of 5,000 included some 200 from Chuck's home in Lansing, Mich., who chartered a bus and came to Chicago with signs: "We're for Davey."

Lovellette's 33 Points Aid In 80-68 Win

St. John's Fails In Seattle Finals; Illini Take Third

SEATTLE—(AP)—Kansas rules the world of collegiate basketball today and big Clyde Lovellette wears the crown.

The Jayhawks won the NCAA title in convincing fashion last night by downing St. John's of Brooklyn 80-68 in the championship finale of the 1952 playoffs.

Lovellette, keeping up a terrific scoring pace with the championship chips down, led the way with 33 points. His record-breaking performance brought him the designation as most valuable player of the tourney.

Illini Take Third

The Kansas conquest came after Illinois won third ranking by defeating Santa Clara 67-64 in the consolation game. Kansas had beaten Santa Clara and St. John's had upset Illinois in the semi-finals.

Kansas, which was rated eighth by the nation's sports writers in the 1952 Associated Press poll, never gave the Redmen of St. John's a chance in the playoff contest. Lovellette put the Kansans in front with an opening free throw and they stayed there all the way.

Lovellette kept firing his deadly pushups and hook shots to run up a dozen field goals along with nine free throws, and Guard Bill Lienhard and Forward Bob Kenney each added a dozen points.

The 6-foot 9-inch Lovellette ran his four-game NCAA playoff scoring total to 141 points. He had broken the old record of 83 points in the first three games. It had been set by Don Sunderlage of Illinois last year.

Sets Free Throw Mark

He also set a new free throw record of 35 for the four games. The old record of 27 also was held by Sunderlage.

Another record that fell before the deadeye Kansans was the high score for an NCAA championship final. The 80 points topped the 71 tallied by City College of New York in beating Bradley for the title in 1950.

The tight Kansas defense kept the St. John's star center, Bob Zawoluk fairly well in check through most of the game as Lovellette hung over him like a leaping tower under the basket. Zawoluk got nine points in sparring a fourth quarter St. John's drive, bringing his game total to 20. He fouled out three and a half minutes before the end.

Looks Like Runaway

Kansas made it look like an impending runaway at the start, in running up a 7-1 margin. The Redmen rallied to pull within a point at 10-9. Then Kansas started clicking to run up an 18-13 first quarter lead and a 41-27 halftime score. Kansas hit a decisive second period hot streak for 12 points while St. John's could get only a single field goal.

Illinois downed Santa Clara in the consolation game on the strength of big John Kerr's 26-point performance. After the score was tied at 57-57 and 58-58, Illinois pulled ahead to 64-60 and held on to finish three points in front.

ABC Standings Juggled Again

MILWAUKEE —(AP)—Standings took a juggling yesterday in the American Bowling Congress tournament, with individuals again playing the leading role rather than five man teams.

Basil Burchett, 46, a theatre manager in White Pigeon, Mich., provided the major thrill by slamming 674 for second place in the singles.

A 168-average kegler, Burchett came up with games of 231, 200 and 213. A missed No. 4 pin in the last frame of his second game kept him out of first place, which is held by Koe Plasky, Lincoln Park, Mich., with 676.

HUGH'S VIEWS of SPORTS

BY HUGH H. HUGH

They're still tingling in Hebron and surrounding McHenry county areas.

BUT GEORGE SULLIVAN, Woodstock Sentinel sports writer, wants to set the world right on one small point concerning the much-discussed cows of the Hebron area and their recent treatment. Says George:

"Much has been said about cows around Hebron and a lot of it has been exaggerated. Hebron farmers didn't let the Green Giants down and neither did they let their cows go unmilked. We saw to it the chores were all done between the afternoon game and the start of the title contest," one farmer stated.

According to Sullivan, the only gripes the Hebron stay-at-homes had concerned the TV announcer. The announcer stated that Don Wilbrandt apparently had "choked up" in the title game and this infuriated the partisan viewers.

Seldom has a magazine article or a series of articles stirred so much discussion among sports fans as the current pieces by Ty Cobb, the greatest of 'em all, in Life Magazine.

COBB HAS CHARGED that they don't really play baseball in the major leagues any more. He claims that today's players seldom learn all of the fundamentals of the game. He says that today's players are a bunch of specialists who either hit, field or pitch expertly, but seldom do anything well in more than one of these departments.

And finally, one of Cobb's most stinging charges is that big league baseball players, men who make from $5,000 to $100,000 a year, don't even bother to stay in shape.

JOE DIMAGGIO is singled out by Cobb as the prime example of the player who failed to stay in physical condition. The erstwhile Georgia Peach insists that Dimaggio could have added several years to his playing days had he stayed in shape the year around.

It has been interesting to note the reaction of today's major leaguers to these charges, as reported by various baseball writers from spring training bases.

While there have been many shouts of righteous indignation from today's stars, others have said that Cobb hit the nail on the head.

DICK BARTELL, a hustler of the old school when he was playing major league baseball, agrees with Cobb in every detail.

"Only a complete fool, among ball players, would say that Cobb didn't know what he was talking about," Bartell said recently. "The story should be published in book form and distributed wherever baseball is played, professionally or otherwise."

EVEN BEFORE Cobb's articles appeared, Jack Fadden, trainer for the Boston Red Sox, went on record with the statement that "on the whole, big league ball players are the poorest conditioned group of athletes in sports."

According to Fadden, legs make the basketball player, but few players spend the time and energy necessary to get their legs in shape.

"... today," said Fadden, "getting in shape seems to be too much work for the boys."

Expect Big Changes in College Cage Rules as Coaches Meet

SEATTLE—(AP)—Basketball's rules doctors will operate today on late-game stalling and cheap fouls—and in the opinion of most coaches who watched a trial run last night it should be major surgery.

It seemed certain that the rules body—the national basketball committee of the United States and Canada—would come up with something along the line of last night's experiment in the Illinois-Santa Clara consolation game at the NCAA championships, won by the Illini, 67-64.

Briefly, here were the changes tried:

1. All foul shots had to be taken. Present rules permit a fouled team to take the ball out of bounds and retain possession, instead of shooting.

Second Shot Awarded
2. A second shot was awarded when the first was missed on any foul, either defensive or offensive, up to the final three minutes.

3. In the final three minutes, every foul was considered intentional and worth two shots.

The ball remained in play if the last foul shot was missed. It went to the opposing team if the toss was made.

Harry A. Combes, coach of the Big Ten champs from Illinois, called the changes "very fine."

"They had a lot of merit from the spectators' standpoint and took the pressure off the officials. We experimented with the same rule in the Big Ten two years ago and liked it," he added.

Feerick Dissents
The major dissenter was Santa Clara's coach, Bobbie Feerick, who thought the idea would increase, rather than curtail, stalling. He said a team ahead, knowing it would get two shots in the closing minutes, would invite fouls by hanging onto the ball. That's what his team tried to do, and failed, with the score 58-58 at the three-minute mark.

The National Association of Basketball Coaches went resoundingly on record, 45-5, yesterday in favor of banning the waiver of foul shots.

Curt Simmons Coming Home; Phils Dream of New Pennant

CLEARWATER, Fla. —(AP)—Southpaw pitching ace Curt Simmons is coming home from the Army—and with that announcement the chances of a second National league pennant in 37 years for the Philadelphia Phillies went skyrocketing today.

Mgr. Eddie Sawyer and owner Bob Carpenter said they were notified the slim, dark-haired southpaw would be sent to a port of embarkation in Europe about April 1 and would trade his rifle for a baseball glove shortly after reaching this country.

Sawyer Dreams
Sawyer immediately began speculating on the off chance that Simmons might be ready to start the Phillies' season opener against the Boston Braves at Philadelphia's Shibe park April 18.

Curt's value to the club was amply shown at the end of the 1950 season. The Phillies were sailing along toward the pennant, lead-

U. S. Seizes Cheese With Toxic Wrap

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The government today announced seizure in Kansas City, Chicago and San Francisco of 6,000 pounds of processed cheese penetrated by a toxic chemical used to protect its wrappers.

The Food and Drug Administration said it was looking for other lots in the same wrapper.

The chemical, dehydroacetic acid, has been used to prevent mold growth on the wrappers. The government said toxicity of the chemical is similar to that of carbolic acid.

The Food and Drug Administration said it had seized during February 3,981,766 pounds of decomposed or filthy foods and 32 shipments of products considered falsely labeled.

Bullet Proof

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Bullet proof windows have been installed in the refurbished White House, the Washington Post said today.

Secret service officials declined to comment on the bullet proof windows.

Student Suicide, Medical Examiner Tells Inquest Jury

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., (AP)—Medical Examiner George T. Mullen gives an opinion of suicide in the death of Millard Romaine, Jr., 19, Williams college student who was found dead of a bullet wound in a fraternity house last Feb. 18.

He offered that opinion at a public inquest yesterday.

As the final witness, Dr. Mullen said also the disorderly room where the body was found was caused "by the dying youth's thrashing around after the bullet (from a .22 caliber rifle) damaged the optic nerve."

He said Romaine lived two to four hours after the bullet entered the right temple.

Miss Patricia Sweney, a Vassar college student from St. Paul, Minn., who was Romaine's date at a winter carnival the day before his death, testified Romaine "seemed a little apathetic."

Presiding Judge Henry W. Kaliss said he would make his finding in two or three weeks.

Romaine was the son of the vice president of a Cincinnati tool firm.

Ex-Nazi Horse

BUTTE, Mont., (AP)—On a ranch near this mining city a displaced horse, bred by the Nazis from stolen stock, is lending his aristocratic blood lines to the improvement of American horses.

"Humphrey," the horse's new name, weighs 1,110 pounds. He was foaled in Germany by a Hungarian mare in 1943. His parents were stolen by the Nazis when Hungary—long the world capital for cavalry horses—was overrun.

"Humphrey" was captured by Americans in 1945 and classed as "spoils of war." The army remount service imported 143 of these displaced horses and farmed them out for breeding purposes.

His new owner says "Humphrey" is one of the brainiest horses he's ever seen. He opens gates with his muscular lips and turns electric lights on and off.

FBI Checking Ex-Employes Of Truck Firm

DANVERS, Mass., (AP)—FBI agents today began a roundup of all former employes of the U.S. Trucking Corp., one of whose armored trucks was robbed of $681,000 in Danvers square Tuesday while its three guards sipped coffee about 20 feet away.

A source, who asked that his name not be used, said he believes the FBI hopes to determine if one of the former employes kept a key to the truck when he left the employ of the armored car service or divulged how a key could be obtained.

It was revealed the keys to the company's armored trucks were kept in an unlocked drawer just inside the entrance of a garage in Boston's north end.

The three men assigned to the robbed car, insist they had locked the door before they parked the car at the curb and stepped into a drug store for midmorning coffee.

New Test Reveals Prostate Cancer In Men Over 40

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

NEW YORK, (AP)—A new test discovered cancer of the prostate gland in 30 per cent of 100 men, all 45 or older, and with no obvious signs of cancer.

The test and results were described today by doctors at Columbia university's College of Physicians and Surgeons. Prostate cancer is the main form of cancer in men over 40.

Until more men are examined, it can't be assumed that 30 per cent of all men over 45 are likely to have unsuspected prostate cancer the doctors said.

In all 30 men, the cancers were caught early enough to be cured by surgery. The test uses a minor new operation and a quick method of checking tissue by microscope to see if there is cancer.

Columbia gynecologists meanwhile checked 1,000 women for cancer of the cervix, the neck of the womb, and found 16 had seeds of cancer.

Federal Bureau of Roads Okays Mississippi Parkway

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The federal bureau of roads has added its support to a proposed 2,000 mile highway paralleling the Mississippi river.

Road Commissioner Thomas H. MacDonald, endorsed the proposal and estimated the federal cost would be 40 million dollars.

MacDonald told the House public works committee yesterday that the highway would be built under the present federal aid highway program. The committee is considering legislation to authorize the new river road.

MacDonald said the federal government would split with the states an estimated $61,000,000 needed to purchase land to preserve historic and scenic spots.

He told the committee that he doubted whether congress would be asked to provide more than $500,000 of this added cost in the next two years. At no time, he said, would more than $1,000,000 be asked for any one year.

MacDonald gave committee members this picture of the proposed highway:

Roads paralleling the river exist now for much of the distance between Lake Itasca, Minn., and the Gulf of Mexico; the proposed route would utilize existing roads for 60 per cent of the 2,000 miles with new construction needed for the remaining 40 per cent.

By crossing and re-crossing the river, he said, the route would pass

Court Dismisses Cigaret Tax Suit

CHICAGO, (AP)—The test suit of a tobacco distributor challenging the constitutionality of the Illinois Cigaret Tax act was dismissed yesterday in superior court.

In delivering his decision, Judge Samuel B. Epstein said he did not believe it was within the jurisdiction of his court to declare invalid a law which has been unchallenged in the 11 years it has been on the statute books.

The Mutual Tobacco Co. of Chicago charged in the suit that the act taxed lower priced brands of cigarettes at a higher rate than more expensive brands. It also charged that the law did not allow for a tax on cigars.

Judge Epstein advised the plaintiffs to test the law in the Illinois State Supreme court.

MANILA, (AP)—The Philippines' underwater volcano is blowing rocks 3,000 to 4,000 feet into the air, a Manila Evening News survey party reported today.

Huge boulders tumbled about the rim of a volcano cone, the News said, and smaller rocks shot high into the smoke cloud.

Jury Sets Aside Will Giving Neighbors Recluse's $500,000

CHICAGO, (AP)—The will of a wealthy elderly recluse who died in 1948, leaving her $500,000 estate to two friends, was set aside by a Superior court jury last night.

Under the will of the late Mrs. Linda Belle Knox the estate went to Mrs. Elfrida Reynolds, a neighbor, and Col. Henry J. Furbur, Mrs. Knox died Nov. 9, 1948, at the age of 94.

Her two grandnieces, Mrs. Angeline C. Robinson, and Mrs. Besie C. R. DeMedina, both of Mexico City, were bequeathed $5,000 each. They contested the will. Presiding Judge Samuel B. Epstein said the effect of the jury's verdict is to leave the entire estate to the grandnieces.

Howard P. Robinson, attorney for the grandnieces, contended that Mrs. Knox was mentally incompetent and that "under influence was used" when the will was drawn on Nov. 9, 1948, a year before she died.

Robinson introduced evidence designed to show that Mrs. Knox occupied only two rooms of her 21-room brownstone mansion at 1500 W. Jackson Blvd., Chicago.

He testified also that Mrs. Knox refused to believe her husband, the late Sidney B. Knox, wealthy real estate operator, preceded her in death.

Knox died in July, 1948 at the age of 92.

Jauch Stagman, attorney for the principal heirs, maintained Mrs. Knox was in perfect mental health when the will was drawn. He said she "was able to play the piano and execute leases without difficulty."

After Mrs. Knox' death, investigators found rooms of the mansion filled with crated antiques, china and paintings. More than

A Whopping Success . . .

PAW PAW, Mich.—(AP)—The big sale at the O'Grady Brothers clothing store is nearly over and it has been a whopping success thanks to the good salesmanship of competitors.

The O'Grady store, an institution here for half a century, never disposed of any old goods.

Ed O'Grady died a few years ago. The surviving brother, James, carried on the business. But he became ill recently.

The store was full of old clothing—some of it 40 years old and in the antique class. James O'Grady had to go to a convalescent home and he had no chance to take inventory or clean out the stock.

Other merchants heard of his plight. They all pitched in together and took inventory and put the goods on sale.

The demand was surprising. Western Michigan college bought a lot of old-fashioned clothing for its dramatics department. Some people made purchases for keepsakes.

The merchants figure they have grossed a sum two and a half times the highest offer for the complete stock.

One of the salesman was asked how business went in his own store during the O'Grady sale.

"Business has been lousy," he said. Then he added with a grin:

"But we sure put it over for old Jim, didn't we?"

Gov. Stevenson, Kefauver Would Do: Sen. Humphrey

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) said today either Gov. Stevenson of Illinois or Sen. Kefauver of Tennessee as the Democratic presidential nominee probably would satisfy most backers of the Truman "Fair Deal" program.

Humphrey reiterated he plans to support President Truman if he seeks another term, but the Minnesotan said he thinks the president will bow out—"although I have no inside information."

As the "favorite son" winner of Minnesota's March 18 presidential primary on the Democratic ticket, Humphrey is in a position to swing the state's delegation behind a candidate of his choosing at the party's national nominating convention in July.

"I am not specifically endorsing anyone other than the president at this time," Humphrey said in an interview. "but I have found there is a lot of good friendly feeling toward Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver, particularly in the Midwest."

Army Men Die In Air Crashes

TUCSON, Ariz., (AP)—Twelve military airmen were killed in two plane crashes in the Southwest yesterday. Eight died in the flaming wreckage of a B-29 bomber from Davis-Monthan air force base here and four perished in the crash of a B-47 Stratojet bomber from Kikkland AFB on the edge of Albuquerque, N.M.

The B-29, with one engine dead, was trying to return to its base when it crashed, exploded and burned in the desert five miles from the base.

Cashier Confesses She 'Converted' Employer's Funds

ST. LOUIS, (AP)—A 27-year-old cashier has confessed, police said, that she converted $4,677 of her employer's money to her own use in less than two years.

Her boss, Herman Richman, said: "I trusted her. I had to trust her because I am blind."

Police booked Dorothy Rooney, suspect of embezzlement, quoting her as saying she "just spent" the money here and there.

Miss Rooney, employe as a $160-a-month cashier at an insurance agency which Richman manages, first confessed to her parish priest, who persuaded her to confess to her employer, police said.

Truman Asks Subsidy for Foreign Relief

KEY WEST, FLA. — (AP)—President Truman today asked congress for extended authority to subsidize foreign relief shipments and said he planned to ask later for power to continue guarantees of publishing investments abroad.

The Mutual Security Agency now has such powers—as did the old Economic Cooperation Administration which it replaced—but authority expires June 30.

Legislation is before congress to authorize the president to designate any government department or agency to continue subsidizing relief shipments.

In identical letters to Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the senate foreign relations committee and Chairman Richards (D-SC) of the house foreign affairs committee, the president urged passage of this measure, and added:

"At an early date there also will be submitted for the consideration of the congress a request for authority to enable the government to continue the work of guaranteeing investments in international media enterprises."

The president said authority "both purposes is needed to support 'the mutual security efforts of the free world.'" He said "it is essential that the activities be carried on after June 30, 1952."

To Test Slot Seizure Law

SPRINGFIELD, (AP) — U.S. District Attorney Howard Doyle plans to file test suits to determine whether slot machines seized in Illinois by FBI agents can be destroyed.

Doyle said yesterday the cases, to be filed in two weeks, will be aimed at clearing up technical questions involving the raids.

The FBI picked up nearly 2,000 slot machines, most of them from warehouses, in Illinois this month. The raids were conducted under a federal anti-gambling law requiring manufacturers and dealers to register with the U.S. attorney general.

Federal courts in Kentucky, Maryland and Louisiana, where FBI raids also were carried out, have rejected government claims that the slot machine owners were dealers and required to register the devices.

See 1952 as 'Good' Business Year

Leaders View 'Gradual Gain' After Spring

Many Say It Will Compare Well With Previous Years

(By The Associated Press) How will 1952 business stack up when the final returns are in? Despite sales figures that lag behind 1951 and slumps in a number of important civilian industries, many business leaders look for it to compare well with most recent years.

They expressed this opinion in responding to a state-by-state survey by The Associated Press.

Some of those reached would make no predictions; some said they couldn't see beyond June. But the majority indicated confidence that current troubles in most lines would be overcome and good levels of business maintained to the end of the year.

Bright and Dim Views of the future were brightest in states where agriculture, defense manufacturing and production of basic materials dominates industrial activity. They were dimmest in states now suffering sizeable unemployment in such industries as textiles, automobiles and shoes.

Government economists in general expect in the remainder of 1952 a gradual rise of income and production. Defense spending is expected to be a strong stabilizing factor. Military deliveries now running around two billion dollars a month may rise to a 3½-billion rate a year from now.

Comments on Outlook Here are comments on the business outlook in some states:

California—Business will continue good but with some leveling off. Major aircraft plants in southern California have five billion dollar backlog.

Illinois—Expect stronger consumer buying in a month or so.

Iowa—Department store executive says "people will be buying freely, come spring."

Kansas—Large wheat crop is indicated and could keep retail business at high levels.

Michigan—Detroit board of commerce says "unemployment, already high, may rise slightly in the second quarter, but should decline steadily thereafter."

Should Improve Minnesota—Farm income should improve in the summer and fall.

Nebraska—Manufacturing and retail expected to approximate 1951.

New York—Industrial activity expected to maintain high level.

North Dakota—Prospects depend on continued high farm prices, good crops, expansion of oil industry.

Ohio—Continued high level of business activity expected.

Pennsylvania—State college bureau of business research says: "Industry for the rest of the year may show a slight gain, but it won't be over a couple per cent. Textiles, clothing and furniture definitely are slumping and will continue to slump."

JUDGE LATHAM CASTLE

Oil at Peak Texas—Petroleum output remains good with crude production and refinery operations currently at all-time peak.

Wisconsin—Some Milwaukee industrialists predict slackening of production this summer or fall unless the government sheps up its defense contracting as present orders are filled.

Lawyers' Committee Endorses Candidacy of Judge Castle

A lawyers committee endorsement of the candidacy of Judge Latham Castle for the Republican nomination for attorney general has been announced. Co-chairmen are Charles O. Rundall, past-president of the Illinois Bar Association, Vice-chairman is Circuit Court Judge Cassius Poust.

The state-wide committee has among its members Joseph H. Hinshaw, president, and Thomas J. Welsh, vice president of the Illinois Bar Association; two past-presidents of the Illinois Bar Association: Albert E. Jenner, Jr.; and Benjamin Wham; three past-presidents of the Chicago Bar Association: Henry A. Gardner; James P. Carey, Jr.; and Harold A. Smith; and two past presidents of the Illinois Women's Bar Association: Katharine D. Agar, and Jeanne Brown.

In a statement calling for the nomination of Judge Castle, the lawyers committee declared:

"Judge Castle's qualifications for the office of attorney general are exceptional. He has gained practical experience in virtually

Cold Continues In Middlewest

By the Associated Press

The nation's weather pattern of the past few days showed little change today as cold weather continued over most of the Midwest.

It was zero again today in Northern Michigan and below freezing was reported over most of the North Central region. Light snow fell in parts of Iowa, Minnesota, the Dakotas, Southern Lower Michigan and Northeast Indiana.

Warmer weather moved into the Rockies and it was mild in the Far Western states. Temperatures were around seasonal levels in other parts of the country.

Rain continued in Florida early today and rain or snow was reported in southeast Missouri and central Oklahoma. Tampa reported rainfall measuring nearly four inches on Tuesday and Wednesday.

every kind of work which the attorney general must administer. At the age of 52 he has all the vigor which is required for doing the job effectively. Above all, Judge Castle has a record of unquestioned integrity and of fine accomplishment maintained throughout 25 years of public service."

According to records kept in 1951 a cow which produces 200 pounds of butterfat returns the farmer about $126 per year while one which produces 300 pounds of butterfat returns $274 per year.

Policy Governing Advertising in Connection with a Political Campaign or Containing Arguments On Public Issues

1. Copy deadline—Noon day before publication for less than page size.
2. In an effort to allow fair play, argumentative advertising which carries a statement needing time for rebuttal will not be run later than Saturday of the week before any Tuesday election day or 2 days before any other election day.

All advertising bearing a group signature that is not of a strictly political nature must bear at least the name of the individual placing the copy or the signature of the secretary of that organization.

In the case of political advertising the names of up to ten members comprising such organization must be published along with the group signature.

The Law of the State of Illinois is as follows:

Ch. 46. Art. 26. ANONYMOUS PUBLICATION ELECTION LITERATURE.

It shall hereafter be unlawful for any person, or group of persons, or any firm, organization, association, league, or other body to publish, circulate or distribute any pamphlets, circular, handbill or other printed matter relatives to the candidacy of any person or persons seeking nomination or election to any public office unless the same bear thereon in plain type the name and address of the person or persons; or the names and addresses of the officers of any firm, organization, association, league or other body causing such matter to be published and distributed and in the event two or more persons join causing said matter to be published and distributed then the names and addresses of each person shall be imprinted thereon in plain type: Provided, that if more than ten persons shall join in publishing and distributing such matter, then it shall be sufficient if the names and addresses of ten such persons shall be imprinted thereon as aforesaid. And provided, further that it shall not be necessary for any domestic corporation, in good standing and organized at least one year prior to publishing such matter, to print as aforesaid more than its corporate name and address and the name of its chief executive officer.

Art. 27. CONSTRUCTION OF ACT. Nothing in this act shall be construed to apply to any matter or thing published in any newspaper, magazine or journal recognized and circulating as such, which matter is published by such newspaper, magazine or journal on its own behalf and upon its own responsibility and for which it shall not charge or receive any compensation whatsoever, nor shall it apply to any publication issued by any legally constituted election officials in the performance of their duties.

Art. 28. PENALTIES. Any person who shall fail to comply with or who shall violate any of the provisions of this Act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars ($100.00) nor more than two thousand ($2,000.00) dollars, or confined in the county jail not longer than one year nor less than thirty days, or shall be punished by both such fine and imprisonment and each publication shall constitute a separate offense.

At any time it is the policy of this newspaper to insist on the name of an individual along with a group signature of an organization which is not registered in the state of Illinois. Copy will not be inserted if this procedure is not followed.

Retail Egg Prices Up, Butter Down

By The Associated Press

Retail egg prices advanced a little in many stores this week. Butter went down a few cents a pound.

Except for scattered declines in fryer and broiler chickens, beef rib and chuck roasts and a few other items, meats held about steady.

Fresh produce also was generally unchanged.

Retail mark-ups on eggs amounted to 2 to 4 cents a dozen and were attributed mostly to heavier military buying and shipment delays.

The widespread reductions in butter prices reflected continued consumer price resistance, according to wholesalers in New York.

Frying and broiling chickens were high on the list of advertised specials of many stores for the coming weekend. Supplies were large and were expected to increase.

Foods to be featured this week-end by major store chains and independents included these most frequently: Chuck, rib and pot roast, leg and rump of veal, leg of lamb, lamb chops, fresh or smoked pork shoulder, hams, pork loins, round steak, several varieties of fresh and frozen fish, cabbage, carrots, lettuce, pascal celery, and citrus fruits.

The agriculture department's list of most-pentiful foods for thrifty buying this week included cabbage, cottage cheese and fish.

Egg Croquettes Assist Economy

Now that eggs are in their full production, let's eat them often. Both these tested recipes are right in season.

Egg Croquettes
(12 croquettes)

One tablespoon minced onion, 1/4 cup minced celery, 3 tablespoons fat, melted, 6 tablespoons flour, 1 1/2 cups milk, 2 cups cooked macaroni (about 1/2-in. pieces), 4 to 6 hard-cooked eggs, chopped, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, salt and pepper, 1/4 teaspoon poultry seasoning or thyme, fine, dry bread crumbs.

Cook the onions and celery in the melted fat until lightly browned. Blend in the flour. Add the milk and cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Stir in the macaroni, eggs, parsley and seasonings, then spread evenly in a shallow pan.

When thoroughly chilled, shape into croquettes and roll in bread crumbs. Cook in a little fat in a frying pan until brown on all sides. Or place on a greased baking sheet and bake in a moderate hot oven (375 degrees F.) for 30 minutes. Turn the croquettes until brown on all sides.

Cheese Souffle
(Serves 6)

One and one-half cups milk, 1 cup bread crumbs, 1 tablespoon fat, 4 eggs, 1/2 pound cheese, shaved thin (2 cups), 1/4 teaspoon salt, pepper to taste.

Heat the milk, bread crumbs,

Accardo Wanted For Questioning By Grand Jury

CHICAGO, (AP)—Tony Accardo, reputed head of the Capone syndicate, is wanted for questioning by the special Cook county grand jury investigating the horse meat scandal.

The grand jury issued a summons yesterday. It is reported the group wants to question Accardo about.

The beating of a mystery witness whose identity has been kept secret by the state's attorney office.

The disappearance of Joel Miller, alleged associate of Joe Siciliano, an accused ringleader in the illegal horse meat operations.

A reported meeting of high syndicate figures in a North Side Chicago restaurant last year to discuss the horse meat racket.

Marvin Brodtkin, assistant state's attorney directing the horse meat investigation, has said the state's attorney's office would subpoena several syndicate chiefs.

Here's How to Make Breakfast Hearty, Appetizing on Easter

Zippy Polish sausage or Kielbasa is traditional Easter morning fare in many American homes. For good reason, too, as you know if you've tried it. Just the aroma of Polish sausage a-cookin' is enough to set appetites on edge and brand the meal as "special."

On the strictly practical side, since so many folks plan on only two meals for Easter Sunday, breakfast needs to be a hearty and appetizing meal.

Cover Polish sausage, either links or the regular style, with water and simmer for about 20 minutes. Then broil serving-size pieces of the sausage 4 inches from

Husband Father Of Daughter's Children, Claim

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Mrs. Helen Irene Cosgrove, 39, has been awarded a divorce on her complaint that her husband fathered two children of her daughter by a previous marriage.

Mrs. Cosgrove testified yesterday that for nearly three years her daughter, Joan Ervin, 19, kept secret the identity of the father of her older baby, Vicki Diane. Friends were told the child was Mrs. Cosgrove's. Then, six months ago, a second child, John, was born.

Mrs. Cosgrove testified that she left Albert M. Cosgrove, an electrician, last June, when she discovered he was the father of her daughter's two children. The daughter and Cosgrove were in court but offered no defense to the accusation of misconduct.

Over her daughter's tearful protests, Mrs. Cosgrove was given custody of the older child.

Eggs and Oranges Abundant

Eggs are big news today. They lead the Department of Agriculture's list of food to be in plentiful supply during April. So, to eat, to use in baking and puddings, or to color brightly for Easter, you'll have all the eggs you want at more reasonable prices.

Oranges will be abundant, too. So serve them freely, as juice, sliced, cut up in fruit cup or in delicately flavored fruit puddings.

Other plentiful for your April budget menus include broilers and fryers. Frozen fish, cottage cheese and peanut butter are also protein sources on the abundant side in April.

Here's the official national list for plentiful foods in April:

Grapefruit (East and Midwest), Fresh Oranges, Processed Orange and Grapefruit Products, Domestic Dates and Prunes.

Eggs, Broilers and Fryers, Frozen Fish, Cottage Cheese and Nonfat Dry Milk.

Almonds, Pecans, Peanut Butter, Lard, Salad Oils and Vegetable Shortening.

To use those eggs deliciously:

Zesty Baked Eggs

One-third cup salad dressing or

Exports Set Mark

GENEVA, Switzerland —(AP)—The value of clocks and watches exported by Switzerland reached an all-time record total of 230 million dollars in 1951 and far exceeded that of any other Swiss export industry.

Switzerland's watch exports made up 22 per cent of its entire export trade. More than two-thirds of the watches exported by Switzerland went to the United States.

Claim Exemption

CALGARY, Alta. —(AP)—Drivers of milk wagons here are seeking exemption from Calgary's new law against jaywalkers, so they can cross the street anywhere to make deliveries.

BAND LEADER WEDS

LAS VEGAS, Nev., (AP)—Charles Barnet, 38-year-old bandleader, and Betty Reilly, a Burbank, Calif., nightclub singer, were married here yesterday by a justice of the peace. It was Barnet's third marriage, the first for Miss Reilly, 33.

Aid to Growing

HALIFAX, N. S. —(AP)—Feeding of poultry and swine with foods spiked with special antibiotic ingredients, a process started in Nova Scotia a year ago, has apparently produced better birds and animals at reduced costs, agriculture officials announced.

Use of the antibiotics brings the stock along quicker, making it ready for marketing at an earlier date. However, the foods have little effect on egg production, said one authority.

Self-Service Here

MONTREAL, (AP)—Peter Staruch recently opened a "Do It Yourself Garage" here and he says he has discovered more potential mechanics than you can shake a stick at.

Sailor's Life Is Strictly For the Birds

VANCOUVER, B.C., (AP)—Jack Esworthy is an old sailor who spends his days feeding the birds. At night he works in a steel foundry to make more money to feed more birds.

For recreation he often sits in his living room under a scale model of his old ship, the schooner, Laura Whalen, and plays bird call on his record player.

Aviaries now cover almost the whole acre of the Esworthy property here. The bird count is in the hundreds. It's impossible, he says to keep an exact count.

More are on their way here from Australia, gobbling up $5 worth of tanked oxygen as they are flown.

Tropical birds have expensive tastes. Last year they ate $1,375 worth of food, which is more than Mr. and Mrs. Esworthy and their son, Michael, ate.

Occasionally they sell some of the rare tropical types to zoos or to other bird fanciers. But they'd rather not.

There are green Cardinals from Peru, worth $60 a pair; Bengali finches who mix three or four families in the same nest; and a golden breasted waxbill from Central Africa that isn't much bigger than the first knobby joint of Esworthy's thumb.

You Don't Say

SINGAPORE —(AP)—Intentional blackouts, a daily measure introduced to conserve Singapore's limited electric power, are so much of an expected thing that it's difficult to recognize a genuine, unintentional power failure.

At 1 p.m. the other day in a Singapore residential section, the fans stopped and ice in home refrigerators began to thaw. By 7 p.m. there was still no power.

Someone, suspicious that this "blackout" had lasted longer than usual, decided to call the power station. This was the first word that the city's electricians had received of the accidental failure.

Hit by Coconuts

IPOH, Malaya, (AP)—Seven soldiers—including three British marines—were pelted by coconuts and admitted to the hospital when their three-ton armored vehicle crashed into a coconut tree.

Roast Lamb Is Feature of Easter Dinner

Easter dinner, California style, is a spirited affair. So is a really wonderful, new guide to enjoyment of food, called "Helen Brown's West Coast Cook Book." It shows how to dine in the simple but pleasant western manner, giving hundreds of definitely authentic recipes. I am convinced that the more this delightful book is used, the better home menus will be.

These two recipes from "Helen Brown's West Coast Cook Book" are perfect for Easter dinner:

Roast Lamb with White Wine and Olives
(Serves 8)

Once more wine and ripe olives join to add charm to a simple dish. Lamb, roasted this way, is lamb at its best. (If you prefer not to use wine, combine juice of 2 lemons with 3 cups of water and baste lamb with this mixture.) Serve it with pan-roasted potatoes and string beans combined with sauteed mushrooms and flavored with snips of fresh dill.

One leg of lamb, 12 cloves of garlic, 1 bottle white wine, 2 cups pitted ripe olives.

Put a dozen peeled cloves of garlic in the roasting pan with a leg of lamb. Over it pour a whole bottle of white wine, jab the meat well with an ice pick, and baste at least a dozen times during the cooking. The garlic thickens the sauce and perfumes the lamb in a heavenly manner. Just before serving, heat 2 cups of pitted ripe olives in the sauce and serve with the roast.

Western Avocado Salad

Avocados on the half-shell, their centers filled with a dressing made with 1/2 cup of wine vinegar and olive oil, and 2 tablespoons each of minced parsley, green pepper, and green onions, is a fine dish, either as a first course or as a salad.

Dressing
One-half cup wine vinegar, 1/2 cup olive oil, 2 tablespoons minced parsley, 2 tablespoon minced green onions.

Doctors Needed

JAKARTA, Indonesia —(AP)—Indonesia's minister of health is trying to recruit 200 foreign physicians to work in this country.

Since the transfer of sovereignty scores of Dutch government doctors have returned home and the available Indonesian physicians are too few to fill the gap.

Efforts of the Indonesian high commissioner's office in the Hague have not been very successful, however, in spite of the favorable contracts offered.

So far 58 physicians have been signed up. About 50 per cent are Dutchmen. The rest come from other west European countries, especially Germany.

Russia Watches As W. Europe Develops Muscles With Alliance

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON — (AP) — For seven years since the war Russia has lain like a great animal across the frontiers of Europe, watching the West, waiting for it to become easy pickings.

The nations of Western Europe, torn by ancient antagonisms, staggered close to disaster. Then, with American help, they began to co-operate.

They grew stronger step by step. And Russia, watching this intended victim develop muscles, always reacted the same way: It growled, protested, threatened, tried wrecking tactics.

Reds Balked

The Marshall plan, aid for Greece and Turkey, the Atlantic Pact; Russia couldn't stop them. But in one place, Germany, it seemed to feel snug. It occupied Eastern Germany. The western part was held by the West.

The Western Allies tried to persuade Russia to agree to a peace treaty covering all Germany. No good. The longer it held Eastern Germany the more time it had to train German Communist stooges. Some day, maybe, they could take over all Germany and make it a servant, work shop and satellite of Russia.

Decides Not to Wait

The West decided not to wait forever. It let the West Germans form their own government. The Russians screamed, for an anti-Communist West Germany, organized under its own government, would be a potent block against East German Communists taking over both zones of Germany.

But for Russia worse was to come. The Western Allies decided, in agreeing to create a European army under one commander, to let West German troops be part of that new and unified single army in case of war with Russia.

Wanted No Alliance

This unified army, which would put Western Germany into a military alliance with the rest of Western Europe, was the last thing the Russians wanted. On March 10 they made a proposal to the U. S., Britain and France which the three rejected this week.

1. Russia suggested she and the Allies get together and work out a peace treaty for a united Germany. The Russians failed to say how Germany should be unified. (The Allies agreed to a unified Germany but only as a result of free elections in all Germany, including the Russian zone, supervised by the United Nations.

Should Be Free

2. Russia suggested this new, united Germany should be free to build up a military machine of its own and that it be forbidden to enter into any military alliances with other countries. (The Allies rejected this, calling it a step backward from a new era of co-operation among nations.)

The Russians want to smash the Atlantic alliance; and a re-armed Germany, if the German Communists got control, would tie up with Russia. That would be the end of Western European democracy since Western Europe's army would be helpless against combined German-Russian forces.

SURPRISED—Mrs. Estes Kefauver received the surprise of her life when the New York Fashion Academy named her as one of the nation's best-dressed women. "I make some of my own clothes and make over others," she said. Above, she models a three-piece, gray silk, cocktail costume, with brief bolero to wear over the bodice.

Claims Prisoner Took Dope Rap For His 'Black Sheep' Brother

NEW YORK —(AP)— Did one loyal brother go to prison to help his "black sheep" brother?

That is the question Federal Judge Henry W. Goddard must decide after hearing this story yesterday from Attorney Benjamin Schmier:

Anthony Pisciotto, 28, was "the black sheep of the family. He was always looking for an easy way to make an easy dollar."

But his brother, Rosario, 32, led "an exemplary life."

One day, Anthony asked Rosario to deliver a package. His easy-going brother took the package—and was arrested. It contained narcotics.

Shouted Innocence

When Rosario shouted his innocence, the U.S. attorney said the maximum sentence would be imposed if the case went to trial.

Anthony urged his brother to plead guilty so that Anthony, who had a record, wouldn't get too stiff a sentence. A lawyer told Rosario the judge probably would give him six months at the most.

So both brothers pleaded guilty to peddling narcotics. Anthony got nine years Rosario got seven years. They went to prison about a year ago.

Rosario wrote Judge Goddard from prison, saying he was innocent. The case was turned over to the legal aid society and Schmier was assigned.

"Written in Blood"

"I received a letter from Anthony," Schmier told the judge, "and, believe me, it was written in blood. He said his conscience bothered him so much he couldn't sleep nights and he swore his brother was innocent."

After hearing the story, Judge Goddard ordered Rosario to enter a plea of innocent. If the brother proves his case, he will be a free man.

BIG SHOT — Pvt. Robert C. Busch, of 27th Signal Company, New York National Guard, cleans up a king-sized M-1 rifle, and is only too glad that he doesn't have to pack the giant weapon on maneuvers. The eight-foot-long replica of the M-1 is used for training purposes at Albany, N. Y.

The process of melting ice requires heat but the melting can be carried out in such a manner that the resulting water is the same temperature as was the ice before it was melted.

Youth Needed

BONN, Germany —(AP)— The high mortality rate in the West German parliament has brought an urgent appeal for young people to get into politics.

And, in fact, 22 members of the 402-member Bundestag have died since it was constituted in 1949. Only three of these have been accidental deaths.

Alarmed by this and by the advanced age of many legislators, a 35-year-old deputy recently broadcast a radio plea for youth to get into politics "for the good of Germany and the European idea."

Tuna Competition

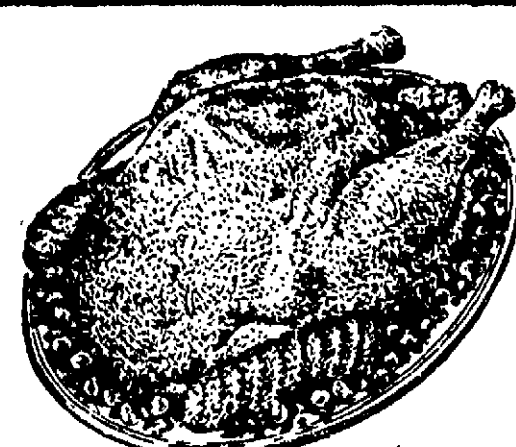

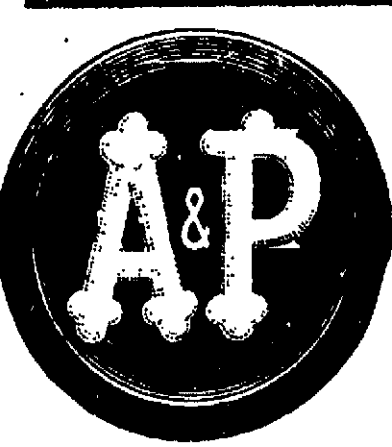

SAN PEDRO, Calif. —(AP)—The fishermen here look forward to a bleak season unless a tariff is imposed on tuna imports from Japan, Peru and other countries.

Heavy shipments of frozen and canned tuna from Japan's post war fishing fleet have appeared on the market at prices impossible to meet by American fishermen and packers.

Monsoon Hits

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya — (AP)— Rail service between here and Singapore was disrupted for 10 days recently when monsoon floods washed away large sections of the single track. All told, the Malayan Railway said, about two miles of track was either washed away or put badly out of alignment.

State Department Seeking Stenos For Overseas Jobs

Representatives of the U. S. department of state in Washington, are in Chicago to interview young people who may be interested in taking part in the vital role their government plays in its relations with foreign countries. David H. Schindell and Judson H. Lightsey are anxious to discuss with qualified stenographers and typists in this area the possibilities for well-paying, important positions in Washington, D. C., and in foreign countries.

The positions in Washington are civil service positions. Experienced stenographers will receive salaries as high as $3,175 per year and typist positions will pay $2,250 per year. The minimum age is 18.

Overseas positions for stenographers and typists pay $3,150, plus appropriate allowances while employees are serving outside the United States. To qualify for a position at one of our diplomatic posts abroad you must be between the ages of 21 and 35, single, with no dependents, and be willing to serve in any of this country's diplomatic offices abroad.

Positions are available in any of the varied activities for which the department of state is responsible. These functions include this government's participation in the United Nations Organization, its diplomatic relations with foreign governments, administration of the technical assistance program (commonly known as Point 4), Voice of America, and many other interesting programs conducted by the department.

The recruiting representatives will be at the Palmer House in Chicago for two weeks beginning March 24. Interested persons are urged to come in for personal interviews or write or phone Randolph 6-7500 for an appointment.

In addition to clerical positions, the state department representatives are interested in interviewing librarians, radio engineers, budget and fiscal, disbursing and procurement and supply officers with previous government experiences for the foreign service.

Easter Cake, Tangy Frosting

"HAPPY EASTER CAKE" with fresh, tart lemon-butter frosting is wonderful dessert for Easter dinner.

This is an extra special recipe for a beautiful Easter cake. It's downy-white, tender, with a velvety crumb. The lemon-butter frosting is fresh and tart in tangy contrast to the delicate layers. There are tinted frosting flowers on the side, and across the top in frosting is "Happy Easter."

Happy Easter Cake Two and two-thirds cups sifted cake flour, 3 teaspoons double-acting baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 5 egg whites, 1 1/2 cups sugar, 1/2 cup sortening, 1 cup milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt and sift together three times. Beat egg whites until foamy, add 1/2 cup of the sugar gradually, and continue beating only until meringue will hold up in soft peaks. Cream shortening, add remaining 1 1/2 cups sugar gradually and cream together until light and fluffy.

Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add flavoring; blend. Then add meringue and beat thoroughly into batter. Turn batter into two round 9-inch layer pans, which have been lined on bottom with paper.

Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 30 minutes, or until done. Cool. Spread lemon-cream frosting between layers and on top and sides of cake. Smooth frosting flat on top and sides for decorating.

Prepare an ornamental frosting by combining sifted confectioners' sugar with a little water. Tint some of this green and some lavender. With the green frosting, write "Happy Easter" across top of cake. Outline hyacinths around sides of cake, using lavender frosting for the flowers and green for the leaves.

Lemon-Butter Frosting (Makes 2 1/2 cups or enough frosting to cover tops and sides of cake.)

Prices Drop SYDNEY, Australia, (AP)—The price of rabbit skins here is the lowest since the depression of the early 1930's.

"Actually prices today are worse than depression prices because of high costs," one dealer said. "When you see so many men going without hats, that's part of the answer. Hat makers have been among our biggest buyers."

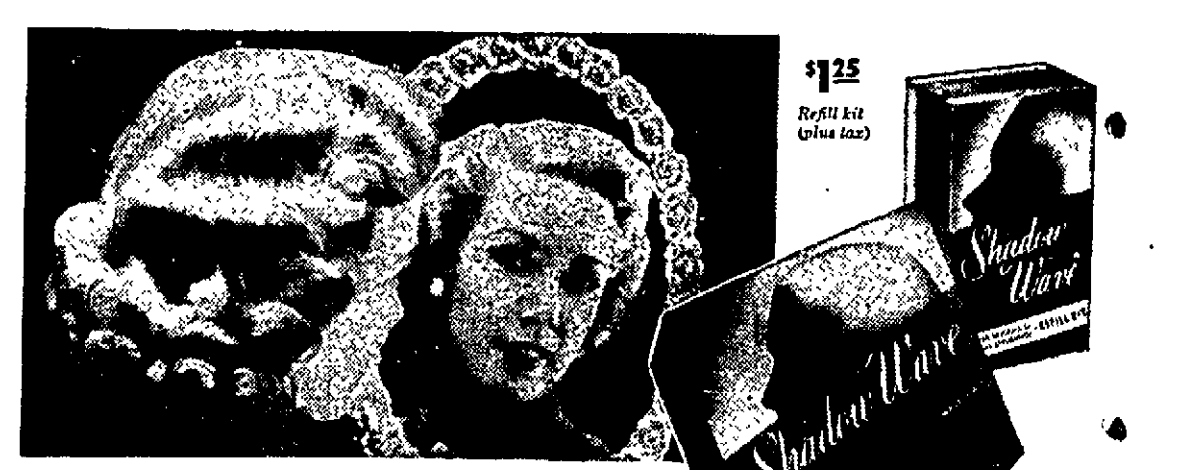

Demand from the United States, once a big buyer, has also dropped.
